MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY

LAW SCHOOL

S P O R T S L A W

Marquette University Law School's Sports Law program provides the nation's most comprehensive offering of sports law courses and student internships with sports organizations as well as opportunities to become a member of the Marquette Sports Law Review and the Baseball Arbitration, Sports Law Negotiation, and Sports Law Moot Court teams. Our broad, well-rounded curriculum is designed to provide law students with both a theoretical and practical education concerning legal regulation of the United States amateur and professional sports industries as well as an understanding of Olympic, international, and comparative sports law issues.

Sports law students learn about many specialized areas of law with general application outside the sports industry (e.g. antitrust, labor, intellectual property, federal disability discrimination laws, etc.) and develop contract negotiation and drafting, business planning, and transactional skills. They also learn how several related areas of law combine to govern a complex industry and how courts resolve competing policy concerns when different bodies of law intersect and conflict. The primary purpose of the Sports Law program is to enhance our students' legal education. Virtually all of the knowledge and skills developed by students in sports law courses and internships are readily transferable and useful in serving clients in other industries. Most Sports Law program alumni practice law and have a variety of clients, including some in the sports industry.

Recently, our sports law students have also gained valuable internship experience with the NCAA, the United States Olympic Committee, NIKE, Inc., The Atlantic 10 Conference, Genesco Sports Enterprises, the Charlotte Bobcats, and the Cleveland Browns, as well as local sports clubs and organizations, and university and high school athletic departments. Some of our recent alumni are employed by the Marquette University Athletic Department, the Milwaukee Brewers, Milwaukee Bucks, the Green Bay Packers, the Atlanta Braves, the Orlando Magic, the NCAA, the University of Notre Dame, and the University of Miami, among other organizations.

Founded in 1989, the National Sports Law Institute (NSLI) is affiliated with Marquette's Sports Law program. Its mission is to be the leading national educational and research institute for the study of legal, ethical, and business issues affecting amateur and professional sports from both an academic and practical perspective. It provides educational opportunities for law students as well as current and future leaders in the sports industry. The NSLI provides a national forum for discussion and consideration of American and international sports issues and encourages input by persons and organizations with a wide range of viewpoints. The NSLI seeks to promote a legal environment in which sports at all levels of competition will flourish. In an effort to achieve these goals, the NSLI sponsors high quality national conferences and symposia and disseminates knowledge through publication of thoughtful scholarship in the Marquette Sports Law Review. It also serves as a resource for the media and public. As a part of Marquette University, a Catholic Jesuit university, the NSLI is committed to searching for truth, discovering and sharing knowledge, fostering professional excellence, developing leaders, and serving those in the sports industry. Although the NSLI does not espouse any particular ideological viewpoint, it does seek to promote ethical and moral practices within the sports industry as a means of furthering Marquette University's mission.

Marquette Sports Law Review

Established in 1990, the Marquette Sports Law Review is the first United States scholarly publication to focus on legal, ethical, and business issues related to professional and amateur athletics. The Sports Law Review is produced and edited by Marquette law students, who earn academic credit for their work. It publishes articles and essays submitted by sports lawyers, sports industry professionals, law professors, and law students on a broad range of sports-related topics. Recently published articles have discussed Major League Baseball's drug testing program, the effects of a work stoppage in the National Football League, green sports facilities, legal issues surrounding college coaching contracts, social media and the rights of publicity and privacy, and many other subjects of current interest.

J.D./M.B.A. in Sports Business Program

The J.D./M.B.A. in Sports Business program is offered by Marquette University's Law School and College of Business Administration. The program generally enables students to earn both the J.D. and M.B.A. degrees in less time than if each degree were pursued separately. By also earning the National Sports Law Institute's Sports Law Certificate, students have the opportunity to combine their knowledge of sports law with a graduate business education that will provide them with a unique package of educational credentials that promises to be attractive to sports industry employers. Graduates will acquire knowledge and understanding of the theoretical and practical legal and business issues likely to be encountered by sport organizations in the 21st century. The hallmark of this degree program is the readily transferable legal and business knowledge and skills that can be applied to a wide range of employment opportunities outside the sports industry. Detailed information on the joint degree program is at <http://law.marquette.edu/jw/jdmdba>.

LL.M. in Sports Law for Foreign Lawyers

The Masters of Laws (LL.M.) in Sports Law program offers foreign-educated lawyers a unique opportunity to engage in the in-depth study of sports law, including United States, Olympic, international, and comparative sports law issues. LL.M. students take the same courses as J.D. students (which provides a forum for U.S. and foreign students to learn from each other) and must complete an LL.M. Directed Research Project on an international or comparative sports law topic. Detailed information on the LL.M. in Sports Law program is at <http://law.marquette.edu/jw/llm>.

M.A. in Sports Leadership

Marquette University Law School students may take courses offered as part of the College of Professional Studies' Masters in Leadership Studies - Sports Leadership Specialization. Detailed information on this program is at http://www.marquette.edu/cps/Sports_Leadership_Specialization.shtml#.

AMATEUR SPORTS LAW (3 Credits)

This course covers various amateur sports law issues and focuses on legal regulation of interscholastic, intercollegiate, and Olympic sports. Topics covered may include constitutional law, tort law, contract law, Title IX gender discrimination, federal disability discrimination laws, the legal relationship between a university and its student athletes, regulatory authority of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, United States Olympic Committee, and high school athletic associations, antitrust law, resolution of disputes affecting Olympic sports (including the jurisdiction and operation of the Court of Arbitration for Sport), and regulation of private educational institutions and sports associations.

CONTEMPORARY LEGAL ISSUES: COMPARATIVE AND INTERNATIONAL SPORTS LAW (2 Credits)

This course examines the legal and international dimensions of the modern sports industry. Among topics covered are the historical development of professional team sports, the structure of sporting organizations, the domestic and international governance of sport, and the impact of public regulatory regimes on the internal regulation of sport. Also examined is the legal status of athletes as employees, public and private efforts to eliminate doping, and the impact of intellectual property on sponsorship and promotion of sporting events. Special attention will be paid to the ever-increasing commercialization and globalization of sport.

CONTEMPORARY LEGAL ISSUES: SPORTS INDUSTRY TAXATION ISSUES (2 Credits)

This course will introduce students to a range of tax law, policy, and practice issues arising in the amateur and professional sports industries, including the construction and financing of sports facilities, college athletics, the compensation of professional athletes (including federal, state, and international tax issues), and the structure and operation of professional sports leagues and franchises (including choice of entity, day to day operations and business sale). Federal Income Taxation of Individuals is a prerequisite.

PROFESSIONAL SPORTS LAW (3 Credits)

This course covers various legal issues affecting the professional sports industries and focuses on antitrust, labor, contracts, regulation of private associations, regulation of athlete agents and their ethical duties, and intellectual property and sports broadcasting issues.

SEMINAR: SELECTED TOPICS IN SPORTS LAW

(2 Credits) This seminar explores selected topics pertaining to professional and amateur sports. Topics may vary from semester to semester. The seminar features presentations by members of the Marquette faculty pertaining to sports law issues in their fields of study. Each student in the seminar will write a substantial research paper on a specific topic chosen in consultation with the instructor. Either Amateur Sports Law or Professional Sports Law is a prerequisite for this seminar.

WORKSHOP: LEGAL AND BUSINESS ISSUES IN BASEBALL (2 Credits) This workshop explores the legal and business issues that Major League Baseball and its member clubs encounter on a regular basis and their practical implications. Topics include an overview of the Collective Bargaining Agreement, player contracts, salary arbitration, media rights, sponsorships, and ballpark renovation. Professional Sports Law is a prerequisite.

WORKSHOP: LEGAL AND BUSINESS ISSUES IN COLLEGIATE ATHLETICS (2 Credits)

A practical workshop applying the legal doctrines and theories covered in Amateur Sports Law to current legal and business issues affecting the regulation and governance of intercollegiate athletics. Topics covered and practical skills developed may relate to challenges to intercollegiate eligibility and amateurism rules, academic progress and graduation rates; the NCAA's Legislative Services Database (LSDBi), and enforcement of NCAA rules (including proceedings before the Committee on Infractions and Infractions Appeals Committee); athlete privacy (e.g., FERPA and HIPPA regulations); gender equity compliance; prevention of sexual and racial harassment; application of the Equal Pay Act, Title VII and collegiate coaching contract disputes; legal rights of former student-athletes (e.g., exploitation of right of publicity); the economics of collegiate athletics; and critiques of the collegiate model of athletics. Amateur Sports Law is a prerequisite.

WORKSHOP: LEGAL ISSUES IN YOUTH, HIGH SCHOOL, AND RECREATIONAL SPORTS (2 Credits)

A practical workshop applying the legal doctrines and theories covered in Amateur Sports Law to current legal issues affecting the regulation and governance of youth, high school and recreational sports. Topics covered and practical skills developed may relate to the application of the Federal Volunteer Protection Act; review of constitution/bylaws of youth sports organizations for legal compliance; comparative analysis of high school athletic associations and their status as state actors; constitutional rights in high school athletics; student-athlete prayer; gender equity compliance and concerns in high school athletic programs; prevention of sexual and racial harassment and hazing of student-athletes; waivers and releases of tort liability for injuries; premises liability; recreational safety and user statutes; legal duties of care and risk management; and participation rights of homeschooled students. Amateur Sports Law is a prerequisite.

WORKSHOP: REPRESENTING PROFESSIONAL ATHLETES AND COACHES (2 Credits)

The study of the formation, interpretation, negotiation and enforcement of sports marketing contracts as well as coaches' contracts. Topics covered include the agent's role in representing professional athletes and coaches, contract compliance with professional sports league collective bargaining agreements, tax planning for the athlete, and the ethical duties of attorney agents. Professional Sports Law is a prerequisite.

WORKSHOP: SPORTS INDUSTRY GOVERNANCE (2 Credits)

This course will focus on the intersection of legal and business issues that professional sports leagues and their member clubs encounter on a regular basis and their practical implications. Using the National Football League's organization, business operations, and litigation experience as a point of reference, the course will examine the tensions between the business objectives of the league, its clubs, players, sponsors and fans as well as the developing legal precedents that govern these relationships.

WORKSHOP: SPORTS SPONSORSHIP AND MARKETING LEGAL AND BUSINESS ISSUES (2 Credits) This course will introduce students to a variety of sports sponsorship and marketing legal and business issues, particularly contract and intellectual property laws as applied to sports marketing arrangements and sports sponsorship agreements as well as their underlying business objectives and risks. It will focus on the development of practical legal skills, including how to effectively negotiate and draft sports sponsorship and marketing contracts and to protect a client's contract and intellectual property rights in connection with sports sponsorship agreements and marketing arrangements. Professional Sports Law or Intellectual Property Law is a prerequisite for this course.

WORKSHOP: SPORTS VENUES: FROM ELECTION DAY TO GAME DAY (2 Credits) The course is dedicated to the study of the legal, financial, developmental, and political creation of sports facilities in the United States. The course will examine the reasons for the stadium boom and proliferation of sports facilities in our country; the current debate relative to the desirability of public tax dollars underwriting sports venues; the ways in which sports facilities are financed and funded; the creation of governmental bodies known as stadium or taxing authorities; the development process and the real estate implications of stadium creation; the development of a long-term leasehold arrangement between landlord and tenant; litigation challenging government participation in financing and referendums; the creation of public-private partnerships and the risks, financial requirements, and nature of the partnership; the creation of contractually obligated income and the ways in which revenue generation meets the bottom line needs of all interested parties; construction implications relative to the creation of facilities including issues of cost overruns, insurance, and the ADA; relocation and retention issues relative to utilization of facilities for keeping the team at home; a review of the so-called facilities arms race in our universities and the nature of this race; and finally, trends for the future of stadium development.

TOPICS IN ADVANCED LEGAL RESEARCH: SPORTS LAW (2 Credits) This workshop focuses on advanced legal research methods and sources related to amateur and professional sports. Sources include administrative materials, treatises, practice materials, association regulations, commercial databases, and the Internet. Students will prepare a research plan that will describe and document their particular research methods used concerning a topic approved by the instructor. This workshop may be used to satisfy the Law School's advanced legal research requirement.

SPORTS LAW MOOT COURT TEAM (2 Credits) J.D. students interested in developing their oral argument and brief-writing skills are eligible to be selected for Marquette's Sports Law Moot Court Team if they successfully complete the Law School's Appellate Writing and Advocacy course. The team participates in the Mardi Gras Invitational National Sports Law Competition held in New Orleans each year.

Jaime McGaver, Assistant Director of Compliance/Operations, Marquette University Athletic Department (Class of 2006)

Sports Law Internships

Under the supervision of the National Sports Law Institute's directors, Marquette J.D. students have the opportunity to gain valuable legal and business experience by participating in one semester volunteer sports law-related internships. Internship sponsors may include the Lewis University Athletic Department, the Marquette University Athletic Department, the Milwaukee Brewers, the Milwaukee Bucks, the Milwaukee Wave, the Northern Illinois University Athletic Department, ScheerGame Sports Development, LLC, the Southeast Wisconsin Professional Baseball Park District, South Milwaukee High School, the University of Wisconsin - Green Bay, the University of Wisconsin -Madison, the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, and the University of Wisconsin - Parkside.

Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club Salary Arbitration Internship

For students interested in pursuing a career in sports, the Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club salary arbitration internship is an excellent opportunity to gain high quality legal and player personnel experience. The chosen intern works with the Brewers' salary arbitration team to research and prepare salary arbitration cases.

NIKE Legal Department Externship

Students participating in Marquette's Sports Law program are eligible to be selected for a unique externship program with the NIKE Legal Department at the company's world headquarters in Beaverton, Oregon. Each year a J.D. student is selected to work for a semester with NIKE's Sports Law Practice Group on a variety of sports-related legal matters, while taking courses as a visiting student at Lewis & Clark Law School.

National Baseball Arbitration and Sports Law Negotiation Competitions

Sports Law program students are eligible to participate in the National Baseball Arbitration Competition, a simulated salary arbitration competition modeled closely on the procedures used by Major League Baseball (MLB), held in New Orleans each spring, and the National Sports Law Negotiation Competition, in which students are given fact patterns focusing on real-world sports issues such as contract negotiation and intellectual property issues of individual athletes, leagues, teams, and licensing companies, held in San Diego each fall.
