

What Do Sports and Law Have in Common?

Find Out Through The National Sports Law Institute

What Is NSLI?

In 1989, Marquette University Law School, in response to the growing importance of the relationship between sports and the law, established the National Sports Law Institute which is the first of its kind in the United States. The Institute's principal mission is to promote the development of ethical practices in all phases of amateur and professional sports. The Institute aims to upgrade the level of information and education available to lawyers and sports industry personnel.

Board of Advisors Includes:

Richard A. Berthelsen, General Counsel, National Football League Players Association,
Orel Hershiser, Most Valuable Player, 1988 World Series,
Al McGuire, National Television Sports Announcer, and Alan "Bud" Selig, President, Milwaukee Brewers.
