1. Make sure to record all pro bono time, including training time. Enter the time you spend being trained in the classroom or online for this project into your pro bono account. If this is your first time logging into the account, your credentials are the long version of your Marquette email address. Change your password after the initial login.

2. Complete the Pro Bono Code of Conduct. Before beginning pro bono work of any type, students must have read, signed, and submitted a completed Pro Bono Code of Conduct which includes reading the accompanying memorandum regarding the professional responsibilities of law students engaged in pro bono work. If you have already submitted the Pro Bono Code of Conduct in conjunction with another project, you do not need to do it again.

3. Getting scheduled. This project operates all year round even during academic breaks and exams. If you are interested in this project, indicate that on the pro bono project scheduling form. Once you are scheduled, your assignments will appear in your pro bono account.

4. Getting there. The Eviction Defense Project is located in Room 411 of the Milwaukee County Courthouse, 901 N. 9th Street, which is within walking distance of the Law School. You will pass through security at the courthouse. Make it easier by bringing little or nothing with you. Water bottles are allowed through security.

5. Can’t make it to your scheduled Clinic shift? If you must miss an assigned shift, ask a fellow EDP volunteer if they can pick up your shift. If you can’t find a friend, please alert the project director, Raphael Ramos (rfr@legalaction.org) or the project paralegal, Don Tolbert (dht@legalaction.org).

6. Dress for Court! This clinic is more formal than most others because it involves courtroom appearances. Please plan ahead and wear business attire.

For further information, contact law student coordinator, Cassie Miller (Cassandra.Miller@Marquette.edu), Project Coordinator, Raphael Ramos (rfr@legalaction.org) or Project Paralegal, Don Tolbert (dht@legalaction.org).
