

CLINICS, JUDICIAL INTERNSHIPS AND SUPERVISED FIELDWORK PROGRAMS

2022 SPRING PROGRAMS

APPLICATIONS SHOULD BE SUBMITTED AT PROFESSOR HAMMER'S OFFICE IN FACULTY SUITE 453 NO LATER THAN 12:00 NOON ON MONDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 2021.

INTRODUCTION

The Marquette University Law School offers an upper level curriculum that is both rich and diverse in its offerings. Its components include traditional classroom courses, seminars, workshops, perspectives and advanced legal research courses, clinics and internships, directed studies, laws reviews and moot courts, etc., each contributing in its own way to your legal education and formation as a lawyer. When planning a course of study for the remainder of your legal education, you ought to consider how each of these curricular components can best serve your professional needs. Planning is essential so that you can maximize the benefits you derive from the curriculum, take care of satisfying degree requirements and course prerequisites, and otherwise develop the competencies you will need as a lawyer.

An important and popular¹ component of the curriculum is the segment that is known as “Clinics, Judicial Internships and Supervised Fieldwork Programs.” This component has long been a part of the Marquette curriculum and takes full advantage of the Law School’s proximity to and relationship with the courts, prosecution and defense agencies, and a host of other governmental and public interest agencies. Each program is different and each offers its participants a different kind of experiential learning. In considering these programs, you ought to evaluate how they complement classroom learning, offer an opportunity to participate in lawyering activities in real-life settings, develop critical lawyering skills, build your resume, and furnish a source of references for future employment searches.

In the pages that follow, you will find a summary description of each program as well as an omnibus application form which is used to apply for a placement. Please submit the application form and supporting materials (resumes and transcript) at Professor Hammer’s office in Faculty Suite 453 no later than 12:00 noon on Monday, November 8, 2021. This will allow sufficient time to analyze the applications and announce most placements prior to the general November 15-17 registration period.

¹ More than 70% of recent graduates participated in at least one internship and many completed more than one. On an annual basis the total enrollment of students in the fall, spring and summer internship programs often exceeds 300.

News and Announcements About the 2022 Spring Term Internship Program

1. COVID-19 Update. Though we still find ourselves in the midst of a pandemic, the Law School is fortunate that almost all of the internship placements that were in place prior to COVID-19 are now once again actively participating in the internship program. Many are now fully in-person experiences; some offer a mix of in-person and remote experiences; just a few are exclusively remote experiences (though that is likely to change as we continue to emerge from the pandemic).
2. The Law School is pleased to welcome Judge Shelley Grogan to the Judicial Internship: Appellate Courts program. Judge Grogan was elected to the Wisconsin Court of Appeals – District Two in Waukesha in the 2021 spring election. She is a graduate of the Law School and a member of our Adjunct Faculty. Judge Grogan teaches a section of Appellate Writing and Advocacy.
3. In the 2022 spring semester we are adding two new placements to the Supervised Fieldwork Program:
 - a. Wisconsin Legislative Council. The Legislative Council is a nonpartisan service agency in the Wisconsin Legislature that provides legal and research services to legislative committees, legislators, and legislative staff. This internship is ideal for the student interested in legislation, the legislative process, and the development of public policy. It is anticipated that participants will have the opportunity to attend legislative committee meetings and brief legislators on research conducted at their request.
 - b. Sheboygan County District Attorney. Responding to ongoing demand for one-semester prosecutor internships, the Law School has added an internship placement at the Sheboygan County District Attorney’s Office. This Student Practice Rule internship offers hands-on experience in all phases of the criminal case.

In addition to these new Supervised Fieldwork placements, the array of internship options at Legal Action of Wisconsin has been substantially expanded. Details are provided in the materials that follow.

4. We are beginning the process of reactivating the Judicial Internships at the Milwaukee County Circuit Court. These internships were suspended when COVID-19 first struck and the Courthouse was closed to in-person proceedings. In the 2022 spring term the placements in the Felony Division of the Circuit Court with judges who hear homicide and sexual assault cases will be reactivated; these courts are fully in-person and have begun trying jury trials. In future semesters placements in additional divisions of the Circuit Court will be reactivated when those divisions return to pre-pandemic operations.
5. Wisconsin’s New Student Practice Rule. The Wisconsin Supreme Court has adopted a new Student Practice Rule for our state, which took effect on July 1, 2021. Under the new rule a law student can be certified for student practice once he or she has completed the 1L curriculum as prescribed for full-time students. The rule authorizes students to make supervised court appearances, negotiate on behalf of a client, and counsel and give legal advice. See Wisconsin Supreme Court Rules Chapter 50. The Law School will certify all qualifying interns under the rule if their placements offer student practice experiences.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING CREDITS

The Law School's internship programs (clinics, judicial internships and supervised fieldwork externships) offer multiple opportunities for earning the experiential learning credits that are required of all students who commenced the study of law on and after August 15, 2015. In that regard please note the following passage from Marquette University Law School Academic Regulations § 201(6)(c):

Students commencing the study of law on or after August 15, 2015 must complete a minimum of six credits in experiential courses. Students may satisfy this requirement by completing six or more credits in the following types of courses:

Advanced Legal Research Courses

Workshops

Clinics

Supervised Field Placements

Judicial Internships – Appellate

Judicial Internships – Trial – Federal Trial Courts Only

TRANSACTIONAL LAWYERING

The Law School's internship programs have traditionally offered multiple opportunities for obtaining practical experience on the "litigation" side of lawyering. The internship program now offers a number of placements that focus more on the "transactional" side of lawyering. Students with an interest in the latter may wish to consider the following placements:

1. Blood Center of Wisconsin Office of Corporate Counsel
2. Marquette Law and Entrepreneurship Clinic
3. Marquette University Office of General Counsel
4. Marquette Legal Initiative for Nonprofit Corporations (M-LINC)
5. Medical College of Wisconsin General Counsel
6. Milwaukee City Attorney's Office (offering opportunities for both transactional and litigation experiences)
7. Milwaukee County Corporation Counsel (offering opportunities for both transactional and litigation experiences)
8. Milwaukee County Economic Development Division
9. Milwaukee County Parks Department
10. Milwaukee Metropolitan Sewerage District Legal Department

PUBLIC INTEREST LAWYERING

In its statement of institutional learning outcomes the Law School states among its aspirations that, upon graduation, the Marquette lawyer “will recognize the challenges confronting the poor, marginalized, and under-represented in society, consistent with the Jesuit mission.”² The Law School’s program of Clinics and Supervised Fieldwork Programs is designed to strongly support that mission while at the same time providing rich opportunities for students to acquire such vital lawyering skills as client interviewing, fact investigation and analysis, problem solving, written and oral communication, legal research, etc.

The many public interest internships include the following:

1. Marquette Law & Entrepreneurship Clinic
2. Public Defender Clinic
3. Mediation Clinic
4. Supervised Fieldwork: Catholic Charities Legal Services for Immigrants
5. Supervised Fieldwork: Centro Legal
6. Supervised Fieldwork: Disability Rights Wisconsin
7. Supervised Fieldwork: Federal Defender Services of Wisconsin
8. Supervised Fieldwork: Legal Action of Wisconsin
9. Supervised Fieldwork: Legal Aid Society of Milwaukee
10. Supervised Fieldwork: Midwest Environmental Advocates
11. Supervised Fieldwork: Mobile Legal Clinic Expungement and Pardon Clinic
12. Supervised Fieldwork: MVLC Estate Planning Clinic
13. Supervised Fieldwork: Wisconsin State Public Defender Appellate Division
14. Supervised Fieldwork: Wisconsin State Public Defender Juvenile Division
(Milwaukee)
15. Supervised Fieldwork: Wisconsin State Public Defender Trial Division
(Racine and Waukesha Offices)

WISCONSIN STUDENT PRACTICE RULE

Marquette is fortunate to be located in a state that offers law students an opportunity to work on their litigation skills and to get real courtroom experience while they are still in school. The Wisconsin Student Practice Rule provides that students may make supervised court appearances as part of their internships if they are certified for student practice under the Rule. To qualify for certification, a student must be in good academic standing and must have completed the IL curriculum as prescribed for full-time students. Completion of a student practice internship can be a valuable credential on a student's resume, especially if the student will be pursuing employment opportunities that involve litigation (either civil or criminal).

Student Practice Rule internships at Marquette include the following:

1. Prosecutor Clinic (offered in cooperation with the Milwaukee County District Attorney's Office)
2. Public Defender Clinic (offered in cooperation with the Wisconsin State Public Defender Trial Division in Milwaukee)
3. Supervised Fieldwork: District Attorney Offices in Fond du Lac County, Racine County, Sheboygan County and Washington County.
4. Supervised Fieldwork: Wisconsin State Public Defender Trial Division Offices in Racine and Waukesha Counties.
5. Supervised Fieldwork: Centro Legal (handling family law and misdemeanor defense matters)
6. Supervised Fieldwork: Legal Aid Society Guardian ad Litem Division
7. Supervised Fieldwork: Milwaukee City Attorney's Office (prosecuting cases in the Milwaukee Municipal Court)
8. Supervised Fieldwork: Milwaukee County Corporation Counsel (handling mental health commitments)
9. Supervised Fieldwork: Milwaukee County District Attorney CHIPS/TPR Unit (handling cases involving abused or neglected children)
10. Supervised Fieldwork: Wisconsin State Public Defender Juvenile Division in Milwaukee (handling juvenile delinquency cases)
11. Supervised Fieldwork: United States Attorney's Office (under the Student Practice Rule as adopted by the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin).

The Student Practice Rule also authorizes supervised client counseling and supervised negotiating. Opportunities for these kinds of activities are also available in many of the Law School's clinical placements.

CREATING YOUR OWN INTERNSHIP

Sometimes a student will arrange to do his/her own internship with a court, governmental agency, or nonprofit providing legal services with which the Law School does not have an ongoing clinical arrangement. Some of these may qualify for academic credit if they meet the requirements imposed upon the Law School by its accrediting agencies. You should confer with Prof. Hammer to discuss the availability of credit for such special placements. There is a place on the application form to indicate these special Judicial Internship and Supervised Fieldwork Program placements. Internships for academic credit are not available with for-profit institutions, including private law firms.

WORKING AN INTERNSHIP INTO YOUR SCHEDULE

In thinking about pursuing a Clinic, Judicial Internship or Supervised Fieldwork opportunity, you should consider whether you will have time and schedule space for this type of education. The ordinary rule is that 60 hours of time must be devoted for each internship credit earned. Further, some programs like the Prosecutor Clinic, Defender Clinic, Judicial Internship: Trial Courts and the Supervised Fieldwork Programs offer the best learning opportunities to students who are able to spend blocks of time (a morning or an afternoon rather than an hour here and there) at the agency or court when the latter are conducting their business. Be sure that you have time in your schedule for all of your other obligations before enrolling in an internship; take into account your regular classes, extracurricular activities, employment and family obligations, etc. You should also carefully note any scheduling advice for particular internships that is provided in these application materials and avoid conflicts with other classes and obligations.

Most internships are offered for two credits with a time commitment of 120 hours; this means that a participating intern will need to allocate 8-10 hours each week over the course of at least 12 weeks in residence at his/her internship. Put another way, the amount of time devoted to the internship is to be evenly distributed across 12 weeks. Students in 3-credit internships will need to devote 180 hours of time evenly distributed across 12 weeks. Because of this time commitment and because of the need to make internships available to a maximum number of students, no student may participate in more than one internship in any given semester.

PROGRAM PREREQUISITES AND SELECTION CRITERIA

In order to participate in one of the Clinics, Judicial Internships or Supervised Fieldwork Programs, students must be in good academic standing (i.e., not on academic probation) and, for most placements, they must have completed at least 28 credits.

Most programs also have prerequisites or co-requisites. These requirements are designed to assure that participants have the background necessary for meaningful participation in an internship. Prerequisites and co-requisites are included in the descriptions of placements that follow in this application packet and/or on the application form itself.

The goal of the placement process is to match applicants with internships in which they have expressed a high priority interest and in which they have the best opportunity for an optimal internship experience. Among the factors considered in the award of placements are the following: the program priorities identified by the applicant on the application form, the applicant's preparedness for the internship(s) for which he/she has applied (including completion of specified minimum credits, satisfaction of any prerequisites or co-requisites, and overall academic performance to date), the applicant's proximity to graduation, the opportunity an applicant has already had to participate in an internship and the quality of his/her performance therein, any relevant experiences as revealed on the applicant's resume, and information provided in the optional personal statement that applicants are invited to furnish with their resumes (see application form for details on how to furnish a personal expression of interest in a particular internship).

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE PART-TIME STUDENT

The Law School is committed to making its Clinics, Judicial Internships and Supervised Fieldwork Programs broadly available to qualified students, including those pursuing their degrees on a part-time basis. Achieving this goal can be challenging with respect to those part-time students who have substantial commitments outside the Law School during normal daytime business hours. Most courts, government agencies, and public interest law offices at which the Law School has established clinical programs close for the day at about the same time part-time students with substantial daytime commitments are available to participate in clinical work.

Despite these challenges, there are a number of placements within the clinical program that can accommodate part-time students who have a little flexibility in their daytime work schedules. The following are recommended for the consideration of those with that flexibility:

- ❑ Mediation Clinic
- ❑ Judicial Internship: Wisconsin Supreme Court
- ❑ Judicial Internship: Wisconsin Court of Appeals
- ❑ Judicial Internship: U. S. District Court and U.S. Magistrate Judge Court
- ❑ Judicial Internship: Milwaukee County Circuit Court
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Catholic Charities Legal Services for Immigrants
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Legal Action of Wisconsin
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Legal Aid Society
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Marquette Legal Initiative for Nonprofit Corporations (M-LINC)
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Marquette University Office of General Counsel
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Medical College of Wisconsin Office of Risk Management
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Milwaukee County Corporation Counsel

Part-time students with questions about these or any other components of the clinical curriculum should see Professor Hammer.

TRAVEL EXPENSES

A few of the internship programs require regular travel to Madison or certain other locations like Racine, Waukesha, West Bend, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, and Chicago. To assist students in financing the cost of required travel, Dean Kearney has generously approved a partial mileage reimbursement plan. Details will be provided to those who are selected for participation in these programs.

COMPENSATION

There is no monetary compensation for participation in the programs described in this registration packet.

LIABILITY RELEASE AND WAIVER

The Law School does not require participation in an internship program as a requirement for the award of the Juris Doctor degree. Students thus participate in internships as a voluntary curricular choice.

In order to be placed into an internship an applicant must execute a standard “Liability Release and Waiver” form that has been developed by the Office of General Counsel of Marquette University. A copy of the form is attached to the internship application (see page 43) and must be executed and filed with the application in order for a student to be considered for an internship placement.

CLINICS

MEDIATION CLINIC

Second and third year law students mediate actual civil cases in the Milwaukee County Circuit Court Small Claims Division. Under the supervision of an experienced mediator, students serve as third party neutrals in real cases in which the parties are not represented by counsel. The clinic meets every Monday morning from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. During this time of COVID-19, the mediations have been conducted remotely. It is unknown whether in-person mediations might resume at the Milwaukee County Courthouse sometime in the 2022 spring term. The mediation clinical experience gives students the opportunity to develop listening and problem-solving skills as well as the opportunity to work directly with persons facing a variety of legal, social, and economic problems. Students also gain experience in handling difficult parties in a mediation setting. The clinic is designed to advance Marquette University's Jesuit mission of service to those in need by assisting individuals who are struggling without professional representation in court.

The learning objectives of the Mediation Clinic include:

- Understanding the dynamics that lead to conflicts;
- Understanding alternative dispute resolution (ADR) processes;
- Understanding how ADR processes work in the court system;
- Understanding one's own conflict style and listening style;
- Developing enhanced communication and active listening skills;
- Facilitating negotiations and building advanced negotiation skills;
- Developing and implementing problem-solving strategies;
- Working directly with pro se litigants to resolve conflicts.

Special Note: All participants in the Mediation Clinic must complete a weekend of mediation training at the beginning of the semester on dates to be announced.

Enrollment is limited to students who have completed 28 credits.

Prerequisites: None.

Credits: 2

Time Commitment: 120 hours

Graded: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory

MARQUETTE LAW AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP CLINIC

The Marquette Law and Entrepreneurship Clinic (LEC) provides pro bono legal services to startup businesses and entrepreneurs in southeast Wisconsin with a focus on clients who lack access to the traditional legal marketplace. Students participate under the Wisconsin Student Practice Rule in counseling clients on transactional matters, such as business entity selection and formation, corporate governance, funding, business contracts, employment issues, licenses and permits, basic intellectual property matters, and real estate.

The clinic is a two-semester experience that commenced in August 2021 and will conclude in April 2022. No students are admitted mid-year. However, the LEC will operate as a summer clinic during the 2022 summer session and then again as a two-semester experience in the 2022-2023 academic year.

Those who are considering the LEC for future semesters should be aware that the Business Associations course is a prerequisite to admission and Law Governing Lawyers is a co-requisite (meaning that LGL can be taken during the same term in which the student first participates in the LEC). The clinic will strongly prefer students who have completed at least one course (in addition to Business Associations) in an applicable substantive area (e.g., business planning, commercial law, contract drafting, corporate finance, employment law, federal taxation, intellectual property, real estate law, or securities regulation).

PROSECUTOR CLINIC

The Prosecutor Clinic, which consists of the Prosecutor Workshop and a Supervised Fieldwork placement at the Milwaukee County District Attorney's Office, is a two-semester program that began in August 2021 and will conclude in April 2022. No students are admitted mid-year. However, those who are considering this clinic for 2022-2023 should be aware of the following prerequisites for admission: Criminal Law, Evidence, and Criminal Process. The Law Governing Lawyers is a co-requisite and must be taken no later than the 2022 Fall semester. Further, a student must have completed at least 45 credits prior to enrollment in the clinic.

Note # 1: Students will have a much richer experience in this clinic if they take the Constitutional Criminal Procedure course during their 2L year. The Trial Advocacy Workshop is also extremely useful preparation for this clinic. Both are strongly recommended for those who plan to apply for the Prosecutor Clinic. Undertaking a Judicial Internship in the Felony Division of the Milwaukee County Circuit Court is also great preparation for a successful transition into the Prosecutor Clinic. The same is true for the Community Prosecution course.

Note # 2: Several District Attorney offices will offer internship opportunities for students seeking to gain prosecutorial experience during the 2022 spring semester. They include Fond du Lac County, Racine County, Sheboygan County and Washington County. Other prosecutor options include placements in the federal prosecutor's office (the United States Attorney's Office) and in the CHIPS/TPR Unit of the Milwaukee County District Attorney's Office (handling cases involving abused or neglected children). Details are provided in the Supervised Fieldwork Program materials in this application packet.

PUBLIC DEFENDER CLINIC

The Public Defender Clinic, which consists of the Public Defender Workshop and a Supervised Fieldwork placement in the Trial Division of the Wisconsin State Public Defender's Office in Milwaukee, is a two-semester program that began in August 2021 and will conclude in April 2022. No students are admitted mid-year. However, those who are considering this clinic for 2022-2023 should be aware of the following prerequisites for admission: Criminal Law, Evidence, and Criminal Process. The Law Governing Lawyers is a co-requisite and must be taken no later than the 2022 Fall semester. Further, a student must have completed at least 45 credits prior to enrollment in the clinic.

Note # 1: Students will have a richer experience in this clinic if they take the Constitutional Criminal Procedure course during their 2L year. The Trial Advocacy Workshop is also extremely useful preparation for this clinic. Both are strongly recommended for those who plan to apply for the Public Defender Clinic. Undertaking a Judicial Internship in the Felony Division of the Milwaukee County Circuit Court is also great preparation for a successful transition into the Public Defender Clinic.

Note # 2: Students seeking experience in the defense of criminal cases should note that several 2022 spring internships offer this opportunity. They include the placements at Centro Legal, Federal Defender Services, the Wisconsin State Public Defender Trial Offices in Racine and Waukesha, and the Wisconsin State Public Defender Juvenile Office in Wauwatosa. Details are provided in the Supervised Fieldwork Program materials in this application packet.

JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAMS

Judicial Internship programs are grouped into two categories: Appellate Courts and Trial Courts. Each of these popular programs offers students an opportunity to participate in the work of the judiciary through assignment to a specific appellate or trial court chambers. For those who might consider clerking after graduation, this is an opportunity to get a glimpse at what clerking entails; this is especially true in the appellate court programs and in the federal trial court programs. For others, the chance to be a working member of a court staff and to observe first-hand the business of judging can be an invaluable educational experience that helps prepare them to function effectively in the courts as practicing lawyers.

There is a classroom component to the Judicial Internship programs that meets on Thursdays from 12:15 p.m. to 1:50 p.m.

A student may participate in both the Appellate Courts program and the Trial Courts program, though not at the same time.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES OF THE JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

While the experience of each judicial intern will vary depending upon the type of court in which the student works and the judge/justice to whom the student is assigned, the Judicial Internship Program is intended to afford each of its participants the following educational opportunities:

- Exposure to new substantive areas of the law (or exposure to familiar areas of substantive law but at a more sophisticated level)
- An understanding of the court system in which the student works and the procedures utilized to advance cases through that system
- An immersion in the law of procedure (civil, criminal or appellate)
- Refinement of legal research skills
- Enhancement of legal writing skills
- Exposure to the process of judicial decision-making and an understanding of those attributes of effective lawyering that materially advance the position of litigants before the court

JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP: APPELLATE COURTS

(2 credits)

The Judicial Internship - Appellate Courts is a one-semester program available to 2L and 3L students. It is offered each semester. Placements are available with the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit (both at the Milwaukee Chambers of Chief Judge Diane S. Sykes and at the headquarters of the Court in Chicago), with justices of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, and with the judges of District I (Milwaukee) and District II (Waukesha) of the Wisconsin Court of Appeals.

Credits: 2

Duration of Internship: One Semester

Time Commitment: 120 Hours (including time spent in the classroom component)

Grade: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory

Prerequisites: Civil Procedure; Legal Analysis, Writing & Research 1 & 2
Limited to students who have completed 28 credits.

Special Notes on Appellate Court Placements

(a) Wisconsin Supreme Court. This internship is principally a legal analysis and legal writing experience in which students are assigned to a Justice's Chambers and prepare bench memos for their Justices for upcoming oral arguments; they also perform such other research or opinion drafting as assigned. Supervisory feedback is received primarily from the assigned justice's law clerk. Notes: (1) As we continue to emerge from the pandemic but are without certainty as to its future, this internship looks like it will have both in-person components (involving periodic travel to Madison no more than once per week) and remote components with the exact mixture of those components established by each Justice's Chambers. (2) A student participating in the Wisconsin Supreme Court judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position. (3) Because much of the student work in this program may be done remotely, several part-time students have successfully participated in the Supreme Court Judicial Internship.

(b) Wisconsin Court of Appeals. This internship is principally a legal analysis and writing experience, as students generally work on draft opinions for the judges, although other research assignments and technical work on the court's opinions may be given. As in the supreme court internships, the intern's principal contact is the judge's law clerk. Placements are available with District I and District II of the court. District I is located in the Plaza East office tower at 330 East Kilbourn Avenue in downtown Milwaukee; District II is located just off interstate highway I-94 in Waukesha County.

(c) Hon. Diane S. Sykes, Chief Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. U.S. Circuit Judge (and former Wisconsin Supreme Court Justice) Diane S. Sykes maintains her chambers in the U.S. Courthouse at 517 East Wisconsin Avenue in Milwaukee. Generally, interns prepare bench memoranda which the judge uses to prepare for oral arguments and they perform such other research assignments and technical work on opinions as may be requested of them. This internship is principally a legal analysis and legal writing experience. Most of the work for this internship may be done other than at Chambers; this placement is thus attractive for both full-time and part-time students. The workflow in this internship varies according to the times when Judge Sykes is scheduled to hear oral arguments. Thus, there are busy segments to this internship when oral argument days are approaching and other segments when the workload is not as demanding. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

(d) Judicial Internship at the Headquarters of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. In this placement students intern at the headquarters of the Seventh Circuit located in downtown Chicago. They are supervised by the attorney who serves as Counsel to the Circuit Executive. Duties include screening new appeals for federal appellate and subject matter jurisdiction and researching jurisdictional issues, observing oral arguments, observing the mediation program in the Court's Settlement Unit, and assisting with such other research projects as may be assigned by the supervising attorney. Notes: (1) The best opportunities for observing oral arguments will be on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Thus, the intern must be available on one of these two days. (2) A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP: TRIAL COURTS

(2 credits)

In the 2022 spring semester edition of the Judicial Internship: Trial Courts program, students will intern with a United States District Judge, a United States Magistrate Judge, a United States Bankruptcy Judge, or a Milwaukee County Circuit Court Judge assigned to hear homicide and sexual assault cases.

Credits: 2

Duration of Internship: One Semester

Time Commitment: 120 Hours (including time spent in the classroom component)

Grade: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory

Limited to students who have completed 28 credits

Prerequisites for specific trial court placements are noted on the application form.

Special Notes on Trial Court Placements

United States District Courts. These federal trial court internships involve placements with the U. S. District Judges who preside in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin. These judges' calendars involve civil, criminal and administrative law cases. With the exception of U.S. District Judge William C. Griesbach (who sits in Green Bay), the participating judges have chambers located in the Federal Courthouse at 517 East Wisconsin Avenue in downtown Milwaukee.

Internships with the federal trial courts are principally research and writing experiences. Students work on opinions and orders and they perform such other research as may be requested by the judge and the judge's clerks. They also observe proceedings in the courtroom when the judge is on the bench and proceedings in chambers when invited to do so. This internship is an excellent introduction to the workings of the federal district courts. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

Special note regarding the placement with Judge Griesbach: Though judicial interns in this program will need to meet periodically (typically once per week) with the judge and his staff in Green Bay, the research and writing assignments that are a major component of this internship can be done locally. Judge Griesbach is generous in spending time with the students when they are in Green Bay and he is very accommodating with respect to the travel aspects of this internship.

United States Magistrate Judges. Placements will also be available with the United States Magistrate Judges who sit in the Eastern District of Wisconsin (Milwaukee). In the federal system magistrate judges hear civil cases (including jury trials) with the consent of the parties, conduct preliminary proceedings in criminal cases (initial appearances, bail hearings, pretrial motion hearings, etc.), handle certain administrative agency appeals, and provide such other assistance to the district judges as authorized by law (including mediation services). Interns typically work with both the judge and the judge's law clerk(s). The work includes both legal analysis and writing as well as observation of court proceedings. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

United States Bankruptcy Court. In this program students attend courtroom hearings, chambers proceedings, and Sec. 341 hearings before the U.S. Trustee. They also perform such research and writing on issues in bankruptcy law as may assigned by the court, which sits in Milwaukee. This internship is particularly useful for those with an interest in creditor-debtor law. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

SPECIAL NOTE ON TRIAL COURT JUDICIAL INTERNSHIPS IN THE MILWAUKEE COUNTY CIRCUIT COURTS

The Law School's expansive set of judicial internships with the Circuit Court of Milwaukee County was suspended at the start of the 2020 summer session due to the COVID-19 pandemic. In the 2022 spring semester the Circuit Court program will re-open with placements available in the Felony Division with the judges who hear homicide and sexual assault cases. These courts are now operating in person and have resumed doing jury trials on a regular basis. A judicial internship with these judges may be particularly attractive to those who intend to apply for placement in the Prosecutor Clinic and in the Public Defender Clinic for the 2022-23 academic year; these positions offer a great way to transition into the Milwaukee criminal justice system.

Milwaukee County Circuit Court internships are not principally legal analysis and legal writing experiences, but rather are opportunities to develop litigation skills by active observation of proceedings in the courtroom and judge's chambers. The judges who participate in this program are generous in spending time with their interns to discuss the matters on the court's docket and the proceedings observed by the students, such as motion hearings, pretrial conferences, trials to the court or jury, etc. Some research and writing may be involved depending upon the needs of the judges.

Scheduling Note for Circuit Court Internships: Circuit Court internships are most valuable if a student is available to be at the court in 2-3 hour blocks of time. This allows for meaningful opportunities to observe court proceedings and those that occur in chambers. Circuit courts tend to have busier and more interesting calendars in the early part of the week; in many branches the Friday calendar can be somewhat light. Thus, Fridays should ordinarily be avoided. The circuit courts typically are out of session each day from 12:00 noon to 1:30 p.m. for lunch.

It is anticipated that in future semesters the Judicial Internship in other divisions of the Milwaukee County Circuit Court (Civil Division, Family Division and Children's Division) will reopen once proceedings in these courts are regularly conducted in person.

SUPERVISED FIELDWORK PROGRAMS

(2 credits unless noted otherwise)

The Supervised Fieldwork Program was established by action of the Law School faculty in January, 1986. It is designed to offer students an opportunity for experiential learning in a wide variety of governmental agencies and in public interest organizations that provide legal services to those who are poor, marginalized, or otherwise underrepresented in society. Students work under guidance from agency lawyers and under the general supervision of faculty members. The program is intentionally designed to provide practical learning experiences in virtually every area of law practice.

In contemporary legal education there is a significant emphasis on what is known as experiential learning. The legal profession expects that law school graduates will have already made substantial progress in the acquisition of critical lawyering skills. At Marquette the opportunity for skills development occurs in multiple venues. One of those venues is the workshop curriculum. Another is the Supervised Fieldwork Program. In Supervised Fieldwork there are abundant opportunities (depending upon the particular program) for the acquisition of such critical skills as interviewing and counseling, fact investigation and analysis, problem solving, written and oral communication, dispute resolution, litigation advocacy, time and project management, legal research, etc. Importantly, the Supervised Fieldwork intern develops these skills in authentic settings: they are working on real cases involving real people under the direct supervision of practicing lawyers.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES OF THE SUPERVISED FIELDWORK PROGRAM

While the experience of each Supervised Fieldwork Program intern will vary depending upon the nature of his/her placement, it is nonetheless possible to articulate the following statement of educational objectives that are generally applicable in every internship setting. It is anticipated that each intern will have the opportunity for:

- Exposure to new substantive areas of the law (or exposure to familiar areas of substantive law but at a more sophisticated level)
- An immersion in the law of procedure and in the legal and organizational processes employed by the agency to accomplish its work
- The acquisition of specific lawyering skills that are relevant to the particular internship and which are articulated at the outset and measured throughout the internship
- The development of the habit of reflection and continuous self-assessment of the intern's professional growth
- The acquisition of time management and planning skills

- The assessment of one's ability to work effectively in the legal profession and the development of one's confidence in his/her ability to do so
- The identification of ethical issues that arise in the internship setting and the methods for resolving those issues
