

CLINICS, JUDICIAL INTERNSHIPS AND SUPERVISED FIELDWORK PROGRAMS

2023 FALL PROGRAMS

APPLICATIONS SHOULD BE SUBMITTED AT PROFESSOR HAMMER'S OFFICE IN FACULTY SUITE 453 NO LATER THAN 4:00 PM ON THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 2023.

INTRODUCTION

The Marquette University Law School offers an upper level curriculum that is both rich and diverse in its offerings. Its components include traditional classroom courses, seminars, workshops, perspectives and advanced legal research courses, clinics and internships, directed studies, laws reviews and moot courts, etc., each contributing in its own way to your legal education and formation as a lawyer. When planning a course of study for the remainder of your legal education, you ought to consider how each of these curricular components can best serve your professional needs. Planning is essential so that you can maximize the benefits you derive from the curriculum, take care of satisfying degree requirements and course prerequisites, and otherwise develop the competencies you will need as a lawyer.

An important and popular¹ component of the curriculum is the segment that is known as “Clinics, Judicial Internships and Supervised Fieldwork Programs.” This component has long been a part of the Marquette curriculum and takes full advantage of the Law School’s proximity to and relationship with the courts, prosecution and defense agencies, and a host of other governmental and public interest agencies. Each program is different and each offers its participants a different kind of experiential learning. In considering these programs, you ought to evaluate how they complement classroom learning, offer an opportunity to participate in lawyering activities in real-life settings, develop critical lawyering skills, build your resume, and furnish a source of references for future employment searches.

In the pages that follow, you will find a summary description of each program as well as an omnibus application form which is used to apply for a placement. Please submit the application form and supporting materials (resumes and transcript) at Professor Hammer’s office in Faculty Suite 453 no later than 4:00 p.m. on THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 2023. This will allow sufficient time to analyze the applications and announce most placements prior to the general April 12-14 registration period.

¹ More than 70% of recent graduates participated in at least one internship and many completed more than one. On an annual basis the total enrollment of students in the fall, spring and summer internship programs often exceeds 300.

News and Announcements About the 2023 Fall Semester Internship Program

1. COVID-19 Update. Though we still find ourselves contending with a pandemic, the Law School is fortunate that all internship placements that were in place prior to COVID-19 are now once again actively participating in the internship program. Most are now fully in-person experiences; some offer a mix of in-person and remote experiences; a few remain exclusively remote experiences.
2. The new Restorative Justice Clinic, which made its debut in the 2023 spring semester, will again be offered during the 2023 fall term under the direction of Mary Triggiano, who was recently appointed as the new Director of our Andrew Center for Restorative Justice. You probably recognize her name; she currently serves as the Chief Judge of the Milwaukee County Circuit Court.
3. The very popular Law and Entrepreneurship Clinic has been reconfigured for 2023-24 and beyond. Henceforth, it will be a one-semester experience (as compared to the two-semester format used in the past) and it will be offered each fall, spring and summer semester in the future. There is no plan to alter the experiences the students have in the Clinic. Rather, this change will allow for participation in the Clinic by a larger number of students.
4. The Prosecutor Clinic and Public Defender Clinic will both be offered in the 2023-24 academic year. Traditionally, the Criminal Process course was a prerequisite for admission to these clinics. However, because Criminal Process was only offered once during the current academic year, some students with an interest in these clinics were not able to satisfy the prerequisite. To rectify this problem, Criminal Process will be treated as a co-requisite for admission to these clinics in 2023-24. This means that students who have not yet completed the Criminal Process class will still be able to participate in the Prosecutor and Public Defender Clinics in 2023-24 provided they enroll in Criminal Process in the 2023 fall semester.
5. A new intellectual property internship at the Authors Guild has been added to our program. The Authors Guild is the oldest and largest professional organization for published writers. It offers its members assistance with contract reviews, copyright questions and dispute intervention.
6. Recent additions to the Supervised Fieldwork Program will be available in the fall semester. These include internships with the General Counsel of Milwaukee World Festivals (which produces Summerfest), the University of Wisconsin General Counsel, and the Wisconsin Legislative Council.
7. A new placement has been embedded within the existing internship program at Legal Action of Wisconsin. This placement is with the attorney who handles unemployment compensation cases and it should be particularly attractive to those with an interest in labor and employment law. A fuller description of this new placement is included in the section of this application devoted to Legal Action.
8. We continue the process of reactivating the Judicial Internships at the Milwaukee County Circuit Court. These internships were suspended when COVID-19 first struck and the Courthouse was closed to in-person proceedings. In the 2022 spring term the placements in the Felony Division of the Circuit Court were reactivated. In the 2023 spring term our placements in the Civil Division of the Circuit Court were reactivated. During the 2023 fall semester placements will thus be available with judges in both the Felony and Civil Divisions of the Circuit Court.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING CREDITS

The Law School's internship programs (clinics, judicial internships and supervised fieldwork externships) offer multiple opportunities for earning the experiential learning credits that are required of all students who commenced the study of law on and after August 15, 2015. In that regard, please note the following passage from Marquette University Law School Academic Regulations § 201(6)(c):

Students commencing the study of law on or after August 15, 2015 must complete a minimum of six credits in experiential courses. Students may satisfy this requirement by completing six or more credits in the following types of courses:

Advanced Legal Research Courses

Workshops

Clinics

Supervised Field Placements

Judicial Internships – Appellate

Judicial Internships – Trial – Federal Trial Courts Only

TRANSACTIONAL LAWYERING

The Law School's internship programs have traditionally offered multiple opportunities for obtaining practical experience on the "litigation" side of lawyering. The internship program now offers a number of placements that focus more on the "transactional" side of lawyering. Students with an interest in the latter may wish to consider the following placements:

1. Authors Guild
2. Blood Center of Wisconsin Office of Corporate Counsel
3. Marquette Law and Entrepreneurship Clinic
4. Milwaukee City Attorney's Office (offering opportunities for both transactional and litigation experiences)

Transactional Lawyering (continued)

5. Milwaukee County Corporation Counsel (offering opportunities for both transactional and litigation experiences)
 6. Milwaukee County Economic Development Division
 7. Milwaukee County Parks Department
 8. Milwaukee World Festivals General Counsel
 9. Milwaukee Metropolitan Sewerage District Legal Department
 10. University of Wisconsin System General Counsel

PUBLIC INTEREST LAWYERING

In its statement of institutional learning outcomes the Law School states among its aspirations that, upon graduation, the Marquette lawyer “will recognize the challenges confronting the poor, marginalized, and under-represented in society, consistent with the Jesuit mission.”² The Law School’s program of Clinics and Supervised Fieldwork Programs is designed to strongly support that mission while at the same time providing rich opportunities for students to acquire such vital lawyering skills as client interviewing, fact investigation and analysis, problem solving, written and oral communication, legal research, etc.

The many public interest internships include the following:

1. Marquette Law & Entrepreneurship Clinic
2. Public Defender Clinic
3. Mediation Clinic
4. Restorative Justice Clinic
5. Supervised Fieldwork: AIDS Resource Center (officially known as Vivent Health)
6. Supervised Fieldwork: Catholic Charities Legal Services for Immigrants

CREATING YOUR OWN INTERNSHIP

Sometimes a student will arrange to do his/her own internship with a court, governmental agency, or nonprofit providing legal services with which the Law School does not have an ongoing clinical arrangement. Some of these may qualify for academic credit if they meet the requirements imposed upon the Law School by its accrediting agencies. You should confer with Prof. Hammer to discuss the availability of credit for such special placements. There is a place on the application form to indicate these special Judicial Internship and Supervised Fieldwork Program placements. Internships for academic credit are not available with for-profit institutions, including private law firms.

WORKING AN INTERNSHIP INTO YOUR SCHEDULE

In thinking about pursuing a Clinic, Judicial Internship or Supervised Fieldwork opportunity, you should consider whether you will have time and schedule space for this type of education. The ordinary rule is that 60 hours of time must be devoted for each internship credit earned. Further, some programs like the Prosecutor Clinic, Defender Clinic, Judicial Internship: Trial Courts and the Supervised Fieldwork Programs offer the best learning opportunities to students who are able to spend blocks of time (a morning or an afternoon rather than an hour here and there) at the agency or court when the latter are conducting their business. Be sure that you have time in your schedule for all of your other obligations before enrolling in an internship; take into account your regular classes, extracurricular activities, employment and family obligations, etc. You should also carefully note any scheduling advice for particular internships that is provided in these application materials and avoid conflicts with other classes and obligations.

Most internships are offered for two credits; this means that a participating intern will need to allocate 8-10 hours each week over the course of at least 12 weeks in residence at his/her internship. Put another way, the amount of time devoted to the internship is to be evenly distributed across 12 weeks. Students in 3-credit internships will need to devote 180 hours of time evenly distributed across 12 weeks. Because of this time commitment and because of the need to make internships available to a maximum number of students, no student may participate in more than one internship in any given semester.

PROGRAM PREREQUISITES AND SELECTION CRITERIA

In order to participate in one of the Clinics, Judicial Internships or Supervised Fieldwork Programs, students must be in good academic standing (i.e., not on academic probation) and, for most placements, they must have completed at least 28 credits. However, the Prosecutor Clinic and the Public Defender Clinic are limited to those who have completed 45 credits.

Most programs also have prerequisites or co-requisites. These requirements are designed to assure that participants have the background necessary for meaningful participation in an internship. Prerequisites and co-requisites are included in the descriptions of placements that follow in this application packet and/or on the application form itself.

The goal of the placement process is to match applicants with internships in which they have expressed a high priority interest and in which they have the best opportunity for an optimal internship experience. Among the factors considered in the award of placements are the following: the program priorities identified by the applicant on the application form, the applicant's preparedness for the internship(s) for which he/she has applied (including completion of specified minimum credits, satisfaction of any prerequisites or co-requisites, and overall academic performance to date), the applicant's proximity to graduation, the opportunity an applicant has already had to participate in an internship and the quality of his/her performance therein, any relevant experiences as revealed on the applicant's resume, and information provided in the optional personal statement that applicants are invited to furnish with their resumes (see application form for details on how to furnish a personal expression of interest in a particular internship).

WISCONSIN'S RECENTLY REVISED STUDENT PRACTICE RULE (EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2021)

On March 2, 2021, the Wisconsin Supreme Court adopted some very significant changes to the Wisconsin Student Practice Rule (Chapter 50 of the Wisconsin Supreme Court Rules). For those who are not familiar with the Rule, this is the provision that allows law students to engage in certain lawyering activities under the direct supervision of an attorney, e.g., making supervised appearances on the record in court, negotiating on behalf of a client, counseling and giving legal advice to a client.

Traditionally, a law student had to have completed 45 credits to qualify for Student Practice Rule certification. However, effective July 1, 2021, a student is eligible for certification after completing "the first-year curriculum for a full time student." This means that students will qualify for Student Practice certification in the fall semester of their 2L year and will thus be eligible during the fall semester to participate in internships that require such certification (assuming they also have completed any prerequisites for specific internships).

Student Practice Rule internships at Marquette include the following:

1. Law and Entrepreneurship Clinic
2. Prosecutor Clinic (offered in cooperation with the Milwaukee County District Attorney's Office)
3. Public Defender Clinic (offered in cooperation with the Wisconsin State Public Defender Trial Division in Milwaukee)
4. Supervised Fieldwork: District Attorney Offices in Fond du Lac County, Ozaukee County, Racine County, Sheboygan County and Washington County
5. Supervised Fieldwork: Wisconsin State Public Defender Trial Division Offices in Racine and Waukesha Counties
6. Supervised Fieldwork: AIDS Resource Center (officially known as Vivent Health)
7. Supervised Fieldwork: Central Wisconsin Community Law (Milwaukee Office)
8. Supervised Fieldwork: Centro Legal (handling family law and misdemeanor defense matters)
9. Supervised Fieldwork: Legal Aid Society Guardian ad Litem Division
10. Supervised Fieldwork: Milwaukee City Attorney's Office (prosecuting cases in the Milwaukee Municipal Court)
11. Supervised Fieldwork: Milwaukee County Corporation Counsel (handling mental health commitments)
12. Supervised Fieldwork: Milwaukee County District Attorney CHIPS/TPR Unit (handling cases involving abused or neglected children)
13. Supervised Fieldwork: Wisconsin State Public Defender Juvenile Division in Milwaukee (handling juvenile delinquency cases)
14. Supervised Fieldwork: United States Attorney's Office

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES FOR "RISING 2Ls"

Some internships require specialized training before students are ready to undertake participation in them. Prerequisite courses are examples of such specialized training. However, many judicial internships and supervised fieldwork programs only require completion of 28 credits; those who have completed their 1L year thus qualify for these programs.

Many rising 2Ls have successfully participated in judicial internships at the Wisconsin Supreme Court, the Wisconsin Court of Appeals, the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, the federal trial courts (United States District Courts and United States Magistrate Judge Courts), and the Milwaukee County Circuit Court. Likewise, many rising 2Ls have been admitted to one of the many Supervised Fieldwork Program internships that do not have specialized requirements beyond completion of the 1L curriculum, e.g., AIDS Resource Center, Legal Aid Society, Legal Action of Wisconsin, Catholic Charities Legal Services for Immigrants, Disability Rights Wisconsin, Wisconsin Department of Justice (Office of the Attorney General), Milwaukee City Attorney's Office, the Milwaukee County Corporation Counsel, and several others. Rising 2Ls are also eligible to participate in the Mediation Clinic and in the Restorative Justice Clinic.

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE PART-TIME STUDENT

The Law School is committed to making its Clinics, Judicial Internships and Supervised Fieldwork Programs broadly available to qualified students, including part-time students. Achieving this goal can be challenging with respect to those part-time students who have substantial commitments outside the Law School during normal daytime business hours. Most courts, government agencies, and public interest law offices at which the Law School has established clinical programs close for the day at about the same time part-time students with daytime employment are available to participate in clinical work.

Despite these challenges, there are many placements within the clinical program that can accommodate part-time students who have a little flexibility in their daytime work schedules. The following are recommended for the consideration of those with that flexibility:

- ❑ Mediation Clinic
- ❑ Judicial Internship: Wisconsin Supreme Court
- ❑ Judicial Internship: Wisconsin Court of Appeals
- ❑ Judicial Internship: U. S. District Court and U.S. Magistrate Judge Court
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Catholic Charities Legal Services for Immigrants
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Legal Action of Wisconsin
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Legal Aid Society
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Medical College of Wisconsin Office of Risk Management
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Milwaukee County Corporation Counsel
- ❑ Supervised Fieldwork: Wisconsin National Guard Staff Judge Advocate

Part-time students with questions about these or any other components of the clinical curriculum should see Professor Hammer.

TRAVEL EXPENSES

A few of the internship programs require regular travel to Madison or certain other locations outside of Milwaukee County such as Waukesha, Racine, Fond du Lac, Port Washington, West Bend, Green Bay and Chicago. To assist students in financing the cost of required travel, Dean Kearney has generously approved a partial mileage reimbursement plan. Details will be provided to those who are selected for participation in these programs.

COMPENSATION

There is no monetary compensation for participation in the programs described in this registration packet.

LIABILITY RELEASE AND WAIVER

The Law School does not require participation in an internship program as a requirement for the award of the Juris Doctor degree. Students thus participate in internships as a voluntary curricular choice.

In order to be placed into an internship an applicant must execute a standard “Liability Release and Waiver” form that has been developed by the Office of General Counsel of Marquette University. A copy of the form is attached to the internship application (see page 53) and must be executed and filed with the application in order for a student to be considered for an internship placement.

CLINICS

The Marquette Law and Entrepreneurship Clinic provides pro bono legal services to startup businesses and entrepreneurs in southeast Wisconsin with a focus on clients who lack access to the traditional legal marketplace. The clinic is physically located in Eckstein Hall and is directed by Professor Nathan Hammons. Students participate under the Wisconsin Student Practice Rule to counsel clients on transactional matters, such as business entity selection and formation, corporate governance, funding, business contracts, employment issues, licenses and permits, basic intellectual property matters, and real estate. The clinic is designed to advance Marquette University's mission of fostering personal and professional excellence, developing ethical and informed leaders, and service to others.

It will be offered in the 2023 fall semester with one cohort of students; it will be offered again in the 2024 spring semester with a different cohort of students. There is no plan to alter the experiences the students have in the Clinic. Rather, this change will allow for participation in the Clinic by a larger number of students.

Students in the Clinic meet weekly in a classroom setting that is scheduled for Wednesdays from 12:15 to 1:50 p.m. During that time, they will receive practical skills training and instruction in substantive legal areas. Topics will include client interviewing and counseling, document drafting, business negotiations, governmental filings, legal research and writing, issue spotting, client risk management, and law practice management. MEDIATION CLINIC

Second and third year law students mediate actual civil cases in the Milwaukee County Circuit Court Small Claims Division. Under the supervision of an experienced mediator, students serve as third party neutrals in real cases in which the parties are not represented by counsel. The clinic meets every Monday morning from 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Since the onset of COVID-19, the mediations have been conducted remotely. The mediation clinical experience gives students the opportunity to develop listening and problem-solving skills as well as the opportunity to work directly with persons facing a variety of legal, social, and economic problems. The clinic is designed to advance Marquette University's Jesuit mission of service to those in need by assisting individuals who are struggling without professional representation in court.

Enrollment is limited to students who have completed 28 credits.

PROSECUTOR CLINIC

The Prosecutor Clinic, which has been a part of the Law School curriculum for more than 50 years, offers students the opportunity to intern with the Milwaukee County District Attorney's Office and to participate under the Wisconsin Student Practice Rule in the prosecution of criminal cases. Interns assist state prosecutors with both felony and misdemeanor cases and they spend much of their time in the criminal courts, handling such matters as initial appearances, bail hearings, motion hearings, plea negotiations, sentencing, and court trials. Before concluding this clinical experience, many even participate in jury trials under the guidance of their supervising attorneys.

There are two components to the Prosecutor Clinic: the Prosecutor Workshop (a classroom experience that satisfies the Law School's "workshop" requirement) and a Supervised Fieldwork Program placement at the Milwaukee County District Attorney's Office. Students selected for the Prosecutor Clinic must enroll in both components. Each is described below.

Prosecutor Workshop. A workshop for students enrolled in the Prosecutor Clinic. Focus is on the development of lawyering skills essential for the criminal prosecutor, including those necessary for analyzing and charging cases, representing the state at initial appearances and preliminary hearings, litigating pretrial motions, negotiating

JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAMS

Judicial Internship programs are grouped into two categories: Appellate Courts and Trial Courts. Each of these popular programs offers students an opportunity to participate in the work of the judiciary through assignment to a specific appellate or trial court chambers. For those who might consider clerking after graduation, this is an opportunity to get a glimpse at what clerking entails; this is especially true in the appellate court programs and in the federal trial court programs. For others, the chance to be a working member of a court staff and to observe first-hand the business of judging can be an invaluable educational experience that helps prepare them to function effectively in the courts as practicing lawyers.

There is a classroom component to the Judicial Internship programs. This class meets on Wednesdays from 12:15 to 1:45 p.m. throughout most of the semester.

A student may participate in both the Appellate Courts program and the Trial Courts program, though not at the same time.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES OF THE JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

While the experience of each judicial intern will vary depending upon the type of court in which the student works and the judge/justice to whom the student is assigned, the Judicial Internship Program is intended to afford each of its participants the following educational opportunities:

- Exposure to new substantive areas of the law (or exposure to familiar areas of substantive law but at a more sophisticated level)
- An understanding of the court system in which the student works and the procedures utilized to advance cases through that system
- An immersion in the law of procedure (civil, criminal or appellate)
- Refinement of legal research skills
- Enhancement of legal writing skills
- Exposure to the process of judicial decision-making and an understanding of those attributes of effective lawyering that materially advance the position of litigants before the court

JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP: APPELLATE COURTS

(2 credits)

The Judicial Internship - Appellate Courts is a one-semester program available to 2L and 3L students. It is offered each semester. Placements are available with the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit (Milwaukee Chambers of Chief Judge Diane S. Sykes and at the Headquarters of the Court in Chicago), with justices of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, and with the judges of District I (Milwaukee) and District II (Waukesha) of the Wisconsin Court of Appeals.

Credits: 2

Duration of Internship: One Semester

Time Commitment: 120 Hours (including time spent in the classroom component)

Grade: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory

Prerequisites: Civil Procedure; Legal Analysis, Writing & Research 1 & 2

Limited to students who have completed 28 credits.

Special Notes on Appellate Court Placements

(a) Wisconsin Supreme Court. This internship is principally a legal analysis and legal writing experience in which students are assigned to a Justice's Chambers and prepare bench memos for their Justices for upcoming oral arguments; they also perform such other research or opinion drafting as assigned. Supervisory feedback is received primarily from the assigned Justice's law clerk. Notes: (1) As we continue to emerge from the pandemic but are without certainty as to its future, this internship looks like it will have both in-person components (involving periodic travel to Madison no more than once per week) and remote components with the exact mixture of those components established by each Justice's Chambers. (2) A student participating in the Wisconsin Supreme Court judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position. (3) Because much of the student work in this program may be done remotely, several part-time students have successfully participated in the Supreme Court Judicial Internship.

(b) Wisconsin Court of Appeals. This internship is principally a legal analysis and writing experience, as students generally work on draft opinions for the judges, although other research assignments and technical work on the court's opinions may be given. As in the supreme court internships, the intern's principal contact is the judge's law clerk. Placements are available with District I and District II of the court. District I is located in the Plaza East office tower at 330 East Kilbourn Avenue in downtown Milwaukee; District II is located just off interstate highway I-94 in Waukesha County.

(c) Hon. Diane S. Sykes, Chief Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. U.S. Circuit Judge (and former Wisconsin Supreme Court Justice) Diane S. Sykes maintains her chambers in the U.S. Courthouse at 517 East Wisconsin Avenue in Milwaukee. Generally, interns prepare bench memoranda which the judge uses to prepare for oral arguments and they perform such other research assignments as may be requested of them. This internship is principally a legal analysis and legal writing experience. Most of the work for this internship may be done other than at Chambers; this placement is thus attractive for both full-time and part-time students. The workflow in this internship varies according to the times when Judge Sykes is scheduled to hear oral arguments. Thus, there are busy segments to this internship when oral argument days are approaching and other segments when the workload is not as demanding. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

(d) Judicial Internship at the Headquarters of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. In this placement students intern at the headquarters of the Seventh Circuit located in downtown Chicago. They are supervised by the attorney who serves as Counsel to the Circuit Executive. Duties include screening new appeals for federal appellate and subject matter jurisdiction and researching jurisdictional issues, observing oral arguments, observing the mediation program in the Court's Settlement Unit, and assisting with such other research projects as may be assigned by the supervising attorney. Notes: (1) The best opportunities for observing oral arguments will be on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Thus, the intern must be available to report to Chicago each week on one of these three days. (2) A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP: TRIAL COURTS

(2 credits)

In the Judicial Internship: Trial Courts program, students intern with a United States District Judge, a United States Magistrate Judge, a United States Bankruptcy Judge, or a Milwaukee County Circuit Court Judge.

Credits: 2

Duration of Internship: One Semester

Time Commitment: 120 Hours (including time spent in the classroom component)

Grade: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory

Limited to students who have completed 28 credits

Prerequisites for specific trial court placements are noted on the application form.

Special Notes on Trial Court Placements

United States District Courts. These federal trial court internships involve placements with the U. S. District Judges who preside in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin. These judges' calendars involve civil, criminal and administrative law cases. With the exception of U.S. District Judge William C. Griesbach (who sits in Green Bay), the participating judges have chambers located in the Federal Courthouse at 517 East Wisconsin Avenue in downtown Milwaukee.

Internships with the federal trial courts are principally research and writing experiences. Students work on opinions and orders and they perform such other research as may be requested by the judge and the judge's clerks. They also observe proceedings in the courtroom when the judge is on the bench and proceedings in chambers when invited to do so. This internship is an excellent introduction to the workings of the federal district courts. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

Special note regarding the placement with Judge Griesbach: Though judicial interns in this program will need to meet periodically (typically once per week) with the judge and his staff in Green Bay, the research and writing assignments that are a major component of this internship can be done locally. Judge Griesbach is generous in spending time with the students when they are in Green Bay and he is very accommodating with respect to the travel aspects of this internship.

United States Magistrate Judges. Placements will also be available with the United States Magistrate Judges who sit in Milwaukee. In the federal system magistrate judges hear civil cases (including jury trials) with the consent of the parties, conduct preliminary proceedings in criminal cases (initial appearances, bail hearings, pretrial motion hearings, etc.), handle certain administrative agency appeals, and provide such other assistance to the district judges as authorized by law (including mediation services). Interns typically work with both the judge and the judge's law clerk(s). The work includes both legal analysis and writing as well as courtroom and chambers observations. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

United States Bankruptcy Court. In this program students attend courtroom hearings, chambers proceedings, and Sec. 341 hearings before the U.S. Trustee. They also perform such research and writing on issues in bankruptcy law as may assigned by the court. This internship is particularly useful for those with an interest in creditor-debtor law. There is typically a considerable opportunity to discuss the cases with the judge. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

SPECIAL NOTE ON TRIAL COURT JUDICIAL INTERNSHIPS IN THE MILWAUKEE COUNTY CIRCUIT COURTS

The Law School's expansive set of judicial internships with the Circuit Court of Milwaukee County was suspended at the start of the 2020 summer session due to the COVID-19 pandemic. In the 2022 summer semester the Circuit Court program was partially re-opened with placements in the Felony Division. These criminal courts had resumed in-person operations and were once again conducting trials on a regular basis. These Felony Division internships will once again be in operation for the 2023 fall semester. We will also be offering placements with judges who preside in the Civil Division who have also resumed in-person proceedings.

Notes on Felony Division Internships: Milwaukee County Circuit Court internships in the Felony Division are not principally legal analysis and legal writing experiences, but rather are opportunities to develop litigation skills by active observation of proceedings in the courtroom and judge's chambers. The judges who participate in this program are generous in spending time with their interns to discuss the matters on the court's docket and the proceedings observed by the students, such as motion hearings, pretrial conferences, trials to the court or jury, etc. Some research and writing may be involved depending upon the needs of the judges.

Notes on Civil Division Internships: Our judicial internships in the Civil Division of the Milwaukee County Circuit Court were suspended with the onset of COVID-19. However, now that the judges are back in their courtrooms conducting most of their judicial business in person, the Civil Division placements have been reactivated. A Civil Division internship consists of two components: an in-court observation experience and a research/writing experience in which the interns work with the judges' law clerks in the preparation of various written decisions the judges will be issuing (many of them involving a variety of pretrial motions).

Scheduling Note for ALL Circuit Court Internships: Circuit Court internships are most valuable if a student is available to be at the court in 3-4 hour blocks of time. This allows for meaningful opportunities to observe court proceedings and those that occur in chambers. Circuit courts tend to have busier and more interesting calendars in the early part of the week; in many branches the Friday calendar can be somewhat light. Thus, Fridays should ordinarily be avoided. The circuit courts typically are out of session each day from 12:00 noon to 1:30 p.m. for lunch; do not plan on scheduling internship hours during the lunch break.

SUPERVISED FIELDWORK PROGRAMS

(2 credits unless noted otherwise)

The Supervised Fieldwork Program was established by action of the Law School faculty in January, 1986. It is designed to offer students an opportunity for experiential learning in a wide variety of governmental agencies and in public interest organizations that provide legal services to those who are poor, marginalized, or otherwise underrepresented in society. Students work under guidance from agency lawyers and under the general supervision of faculty members. The program is designed to provide practical learning experiences in virtually every area of law practice.

In contemporary legal education there is a significant emphasis on what is known as experiential learning. The legal profession expects that law school graduates will have already made substantial progress in the acquisition of critical lawyering skills. At Marquette the opportunity for skills development occurs in multiple venues. One of those venues is the workshop curriculum. Another is the Supervised Fieldwork Program. In Supervised Fieldwork there are abundant opportunities (depending upon the particular program) for the acquisition of such critical skills as interviewing and counseling, fact investigation and analysis, problem solving, written and oral communication, dispute resolution, litigation advocacy, time and project management, legal research, etc. Importantly, the Supervised Fieldwork intern develops these skills in authentic settings: they are working on real cases involving real people under the direct supervision of practicing lawyers.

Most of the Supervised Fieldwork Program agencies and offices have resumed in-person operations, though a limited number are still operating remotely (in whole or in part) due to the pandemic.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES OF THE SUPERVISED FIELDWORK PROGRAM

While the experience of each Supervised Fieldwork Program intern will vary depending upon the nature of his/her placement, it is nonetheless possible to articulate the following statement of educational objectives that are generally applicable in every internship setting. It is anticipated that each intern will have the opportunity for:

- Exposure to new substantive areas of the law (or exposure to familiar areas of substantive law but at a more sophisticated level)
- An immersion in the law of procedure and in the legal and organizational processes employed by the agency to accomplish its work
- The acquisition of specific lawyering skills that are relevant to the particular internship and which are articulated at the outset and measured throughout the internship

- The development of the habit of reflection and continuous self-assessment of the intern's professional growth
- The acquisition of time management and planning skills
- The assessment of one's ability to work effectively in the legal profession and the development of one's confidence in his/her ability to do so
- The identification of ethical issues that arise in the internship setting and the methods for resolving those issues

General Requirements of the Supervised Fieldwork Program

Credits: 2 (unless noted otherwise)

Duration of Internship: One Semester

Time Commitment: 120 hours for 2-credit internships; 180 hours for 3-credit internships; 240 hours for 4-credit internships

Grade: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory

Limited to students who have completed 28 credits. Student practice rule internships (which are noted in the materials that follow) require completion of the 1L curriculum for full-time students.

Other prerequisites/co-requisites are catalogued below in the "Special Notes" section.

NOTE: There is no weekly classroom component in the Supervised Fieldwork Program. Instead, students must be available for a few prescheduled group meetings which typically occur during the noon hour at the Law School. There are also a few individual meetings with the faculty supervisor assigned to each program.

This legally binding Release is made by _____ (“Participant”) to Marquette University (“Marquette”). The term “Undersigned” refers to Participant.

The Undersigned fully recognizes that there are dangers and risks to which Participant may be exposed by participating in the Marquette University Law School Program of Clinics, Judicial Internships and Supervised Fieldwork (“Program”). Program activities (“Activities”) include, but are not limited to, observation; legal research and writing; attending hearings, motions, trials, depositions, and other proceedings; interacting with clients, potential clients, and others; and participating in other related activities connected to the Program. Activities take place at courthouses, municipal buildings, governmental agency offices, offices of organizations that host internships, etc. Participants are responsible for arranging for their own round-trip transportation to and from Activities associated with the Program.

The Undersigned has signed this “Release and Waiver” in full recognition and appreciation of the dangers, hazards, and risks of said Activities, which dangers include, but are not limited to, physical injuries (minimal, serious, or catastrophic) and/or property loss or damage. The Undersigned understands that Marquette does not require Participant to participate in this Program, but Participant desires to do so, despite the possible dangers and risks and despite this Release. The Undersigned submits that Participant is physically able to participate in this Program. Participant grants Marquette permission to administer first aid to and/or to obtain emergency medical treatment for Participant in the event of a medical emergency. The Undersigned agrees to pay for any/all costs of such medical treatment.

The Undersigned therefore agrees to assume and take on all the risks and responsibilities in any way associated with this Program and its Activities. In consideration of, and in return for, services, facilities, and other assistance provided to Participant by Marquette in this Program and its Activities, the Undersigned releases Marquette (and its governing board, employees, and agents) from any and all liability, claims and actions that may arise from injury or harm to Participant, up to and including death, or from damage to or loss of property in connection with this Program and its Activities. The Undersigned understands that this Release covers liability, claims, and actions caused entirely or in part by any acts or failures to act of Marquette (or its governing board, employees, or agents), including but not limited to negligence, mistake, or failure to supervise by Marquette.

The Undersigned recognizes that this Release means that Participant is giving up, among other things, rights to sue Marquette, its governing board, employees, and agents for injuries, damages or losses incurred. The Undersigned also understands that this Release binds Participant and his/her heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns. The Undersigned has read this entire Release, fully understands it, and agrees to be legally bound by it.
