INTRODUCTION

The Marquette University Law School offers an upper level curriculum that is both rich and diverse in its offerings. Its components include traditional classroom courses, seminars, workshops, perspectives and advanced legal research courses, clinics and internships, directed studies, laws reviews and moot courts, etc., each contributing in its own way to your legal education and formation as a lawyer. When planning a course of study for the remainder of your legal education, you ought to consider how each of these curricular components can best serve your needs. Planning is essential so that you can maximize the benefits you derive from the curriculum, take care of satisfying degree requirements and course prerequisites, and otherwise develop the competencies you will need as a lawyer.

An important and popular component of the curriculum is the segment that is known as “Clinics, Judicial Internships and Supervised Fieldwork Programs.” This component has long been a part of the Marquette curriculum and takes full advantage of the Law School’s proximity to and relationship with the courts, prosecution and defense agencies, and a host of other governmental and public interest agencies. Each program is different and each offers its participants a different kind of experiential learning. In considering these programs, you ought to evaluate how they complement classroom learning, offer an opportunity to participate in lawyering activities in real-life settings, develop critical lawyering skills, build your resume, and furnish a source of references for future employment searches.

In the pages that follow, you will find a summary description of each program as well as an omnibus application form which is used to apply for a placement. Please submit the application form and supporting materials (resumes and transcript) to Faculty Assistant Debbie Moore in Eckstein Hall Suite 453 no later than 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 3, 2013. This will allow sufficient time to analyze the applications and announce most placements prior to the general April 10-12 registration period.

1 Approximately 70% of recent graduates participated in at least one internship and many completed more than one. On an annual basis the total enrollment of students in the fall, spring and summer internship programs now exceeds 300.
CREATING YOUR OWN INTERNSHIP

Sometimes a student will arrange to do his/her own internship with a court, governmental agency, or nonprofit providing legal services with which the Law School does not have an ongoing clinical arrangement. Some of these may qualify for academic credit if they meet the requirements imposed upon the Law School by its accrediting agencies. You should confer with Prof. Hammer to discuss the availability of credit for such special placements. There is a place on the application form to indicate these special Judicial Internship and Supervised Fieldwork Program placements. Internships for academic credit are not available with for-profit institutions, including private law firms.

WORKING AN INTERNSHIP INTO YOUR SCHEDULE

In thinking about pursuing a Clinic, Judicial Internship or Supervised Fieldwork opportunity, you should consider whether you will have time and schedule space for this type of education. The ordinary rule is that 60 hours of time must be devoted for each internship credit earned. Further, some programs like the Prosecutor Clinic, Defender Clinic, Judicial Internship: Trial Courts and the Supervised Fieldwork Programs offer the best learning opportunities to students who are able to spend blocks of time (a morning or an afternoon rather than an hour here and there) at the agency or court when the latter are conducting their business. Be sure that you have time in your schedule for all of your other obligations before enrolling in an internship; take into account your regular classes, extracurricular activities, employment and family obligations, etc. Most internships are offered for two credits; this means that a participating intern will need to allocate 8-10 hours each week over the course of at least 12 weeks in residence at his/her internship. Put another way, the amount of time devoted to the internship is to be evenly distributed across 12 weeks. Because of this time commitment and because of the need to make internships available to a maximum number of students, no student may participate in more than one internship in any given semester.

PROGRAM PREREQUISITES AND SELECTION CRITERIA

In order to participate in one of the Clinics, Judicial Internships or Supervised Fieldwork Programs, students must be in good academic standing (i.e., not on academic probation) and, for most placements, they must have completed at least 27 credits. Programs like the Prosecutor Clinic, the Public Defender Clinic and a few others, which require that participants be certified for student practice under the Wisconsin Student Practice Rule, are limited to those who have completed 45 credits (a requirement for student practice licensing).
Most programs also have prerequisites or co-requisites. These requirements are designed to assure that participants have the background necessary for meaningful participation in an internship. Prerequisites and co-requisites are included in the descriptions of placements that follow in this application packet.

The goal of the placement process is to match applicants with internships in which they have expressed a high priority interest and in which they have the best opportunity for an optimal internship experience. Among the factors considered in the award of placements are the following: the program priorities identified by the applicant on the application form, the applicant’s preparedness for the internship(s) for which he/she has applied (including completion of specified minimum credits, satisfaction of any prerequisites or co-requisites, and overall academic performance to date), the applicant’s proximity to graduation, the opportunity an applicant has already had to participate in an internship and the quality of his/her performance therein, any relevant experiences as revealed on the applicant’s resume, and information provided in the optional personal statement that applicants are invited to furnish with their resumes (see application form for details on how to furnish a personal expression of interest in a particular internship).

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE PART-TIME STUDENT

The Law School is committed to making its Clinics, Judicial Internships and Supervised Fieldwork Programs broadly available to qualified students, including those in the Part-Time Program. Achieving this goal can be challenging with respect to those part-time evening students who have substantial commitments outside the Law School during normal daytime business hours. Most courts, government agencies, and public interest law offices at which the Law School has established clinical programs close for the day at about the same time part-time students with daytime employment are available to participate in clinical work.

Despite these challenges, there are a number of placements within the clinical program that can accommodate Part-Time Program students who have a little flexibility in their daytime work schedules. The following are recommended for the consideration of those with that flexibility:

- Mediation Clinic
- Unemployment Compensation Clinic
- Judicial Internship: Wisconsin Supreme Court
- Judicial Internship: Wisconsin Court of Appeals
- Judicial Internship: U.S. District Court (Judge Griesbach in Green Bay)
- Supervised Fieldwork: AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin
Part-time students with questions about these or any other components of the clinical curriculum should see Professor Hammer.

TRAVEL EXPENSES

A few of the internship programs require regular travel to Madison or certain other locations like Waukesha, Green Bay and Chicago. To assist students in financing the cost of required travel, Dean Kearney has generously approved a partial mileage reimbursement plan. Details will be provided to those who are selected for participation in these programs.

COMPENSATION

There is no monetary compensation for participation in the programs described in this registration packet. The American Bar Association, which is the Law School’s accrediting agency, strictly prohibits monetary compensation for activities for which academic credit is awarded.

LIABILITY RELEASE AND WAIVER

The Law School does not require participation in an internship program as a requirement for the award of the Juris Doctor degree. Students thus participate in internships as a voluntary curricular choice.

In order to be placed into an internship an applicant must execute a standard “Liability Release and Waiver” form that has been developed by the Office of General Counsel of Marquette University. A copy of the form is attached to the internship application (see page 42) and must be executed and filed with the application in order for a student to be considered for an internship placement.

CLINICS

(2-3 CREDITS)

Second and third year law students mediate actual civil cases in the Milwaukee County Circuit Court Small Claims Division. Under the supervision of an experienced mediator, students serve as third party neutrals in real cases in which the parties are not represented by counsel. The clinic meets every Monday morning from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in the Milwaukee County Courthouse. The mediation clinical experience gives students the opportunity to develop listening and problem-solving skills as well as the opportunity to work directly with persons facing a variety of legal, social, and economic problems. Students also gain experience in handling difficult parties in a mediation setting. The clinic is designed to advance Marquette University’s Jesuit mission of service to those in need by assisting individuals who are struggling without professional representation in court.

This course may be taken for a second time with the permission of Professor Hammer. A student will earn 2 credits if s/he is taking this course for a second time. If a student has not taken this clinic in any prior semester, the student will earn 3 credits and must participate in a weekend of mediation training at the beginning of the semester on dates to be announced.

Enrollment is limited to students who have completed 27 credits.

Prerequisites: None.
Graded: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION CLINIC

This clinic is offered in cooperation with Legal Action of Wisconsin. It provides law students with training and experience in the representation of unemployment compensation claimants. Students receive classroom instruction on Thursdays from 5:30 to 6:50 p.m. and additional training outside of the classroom. During the semester students observe and critique a number of unemployment insurance hearings and then go on to represent claimants in hearings conducted before administrative law judges. Under the supervision of an attorney, participants engage in client interviews, case development, witness preparation, and client representation at the administrative hearings. Client intake occurs during the evening at the Law School (from 5:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. or so on either Monday or Tuesday evening as determined by student availability); hearings are scheduled during daytime hours at the State Office Building, 819 North 6th Street, Milwaukee WI.

Classroom Component: Meets on Thursdays (5:30 – 6:50 p.m.)
Graded: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory.
Limited to students who have completed 27 credits.

Prerequisites: None.

Note # 1: The Unemployment Compensation Clinic is suitable for full-time students and for part-time students who have the flexibility to attend occasional daytime hearings.

Note # 2: A student taking the Unemployment Comp clinic for the first time earns 2 credits. Involvement in this clinic may be continued in a subsequent semester for one credit with the permission of the instructor and the Director of Clinical Education.

RESTORATIVE JUSTICE CLINIC

In academic year 2007-08 the Law School launched a new clinical program called the Restorative Justice Clinic. This is an in-house Law School clinic under the direction of Professor Janine Geske for which academic credit is awarded and which is comprised of both an academic component and a fieldwork component. The clinic is part of the Marquette University Law School Restorative Justice Initiative (“MULS RJI”).

The official course description for the clinic is as follows:

RESTORATIVE JUSTICE CLINIC: This clinic affords students an opportunity to do restorative justice clinical work with various community programs, to help prepare and mediate victim/offender dialogues in crimes of severe violence, and to conduct research on restorative justice issues.

CREDITS: 2

PREREQUISITES: None. Limited to students who have completed 27 credits. Preference will be given to students who have either completed the Restorative Justice course or who are simultaneously enrolled in the Restorative Justice course.

GRADED: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory

CLASSROOM COMPONENT: Meets on Mondays
(2:00 p.m. – 3:40 p.m.)

OBJECTIVES OF RESTORATIVE JUSTICE CLINIC: The students will study and develop clinical skills to conduct restorative justice processes such as victim/offender dialogue sessions, victim impact panels, healing circles, listening circles, etc. They will learn leadership skills in program development, consensus building and system development.

PROSECUTOR CLINIC

The Prosecutor Clinic, which has been a part of the Law School curriculum for more than 40 years, offers students the opportunity to intern with the Milwaukee County District Attorney’s Office and to participate under the Wisconsin Student Practice Rule in the prosecution of criminal cases. Interns assist state prosecutors with both felony and misdemeanor cases and they spend much of their time in the criminal courts, handling such matters as initial appearances, bail hearings, motion hearings, plea negotiations, and court trials. Before concluding this clinical experience, many even try jury cases under the guidance of their supervising attorneys.

There are two components to the Prosecutor Clinic: the Prosecutor Workshop (a classroom experience that satisfies the Law School’s “workshop” requirement) and a Supervised Fieldwork Program placement at the Milwaukee County District Attorney’s Office. Students selected for the Prosecutor Clinic must enroll in both components. Each is described below.
Prosecutor Workshop. A workshop for students enrolled in the Prosecutor Clinic. Focus is on the development of lawyering skills essential for the criminal prosecutor, including those necessary for analyzing and charging cases, representing the state at initial appearances and preliminary hearings, litigating pretrial motions, negotiating plea agreements, representing the state at guilty plea hearings and sentencing proceedings, and litigating trials to the court and to the jury.

Credits: 2
Graded: Letter grade system (A, B, C, etc.)

Prerequisites: Criminal Law, Criminal Process and Evidence
Prerequisite or Fall Term Co-requisite: Law Governing Lawyers
Limited to students who have completed 45 credits (a Wisconsin Student Practice Rule requirement)

Class Meeting Time: Mondays (5:00 – 6:50 p.m.)

The fieldwork component of the Prosecutor Clinic is part of the Law School’s Supervised Fieldwork Program and is described as follows:

Supervised Fieldwork Program: Milwaukee County District Attorney’s Office.
This is the fieldwork component of the Prosecutor Clinic. Students assist Milwaukee County prosecutors in the full range of activities associated with the prosecution of criminal cases. These activities may include charging cases, representing the state at initial appearances and preliminary hearings, litigating pretrial motions, negotiating plea agreements, representing the state at guilty plea hearings and sentencing proceedings, litigating trials to the court and to the jury, and preparing appellate briefs.

Credits: 4
Time Commitment: 240 hours spread over the course of two semesters
Graded: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory
Prerequisites: Criminal Law, Criminal Process and Evidence
Prerequisite or Fall Term Co-requisite: Law Governing Lawyers
Limited to student who have completed 45 credits

The Prosecutor Clinic is a two-semester experience that begins in the fall semester and concludes at the end of the spring term. A participating student must complete the entirety of the two-semester program in order to earn any academic credit, i.e., no partial credit is awarded for participation in some but not all of the program. A grand total of 6 credits will be awarded (2 for the workshop and 4 for the supervised fieldwork) upon conclusion of the two-semester program (although on final transcripts the credits for each component will be evenly divided between the two semesters).
PUBLIC DEFENDER CLINIC

In the Public Defender Clinic students intern with the Milwaukee Office of the Wisconsin State Public Defender Trial Division and participate under the Wisconsin Student Practice Rule in the preparation and defense of criminal cases. Working under the supervision of Assistant State Public Defenders, students assist in all phases of representing the poor who are accused of crime. Their duties include interviewing clients and witnesses, researching legal issues, making court appearances, participating in plea negotiations, preparing cases for trial, and assisting at trials.

There are two components to the Public Defender Clinic: the Public Defender Workshop (a classroom experience that satisfies the Law School’s “workshop” requirement) and a Supervised Fieldwork Program placement in the Trial Division of the Wisconsin State Public Defender’s Office in Milwaukee. Students selected for the Public Defender Clinic must enroll in both components. Each is described below.

Public Defender Workshop. A workshop for students enrolled in the Public Defender Clinic. Focus is on the development of lawyering skills essential for the criminal defense attorney, including those necessary for case investigation and analysis, representing defendants at initial appearances and preliminary hearings, litigating pretrial motions, negotiating plea agreements, representing defendants at guilty plea hearings and sentencing proceedings, and litigating trials to the court and to the jury.

Credits: 2

Prerequisite or Fall Term Co-requisite: Law Governing Lawyers
Limited to students who have completed 45 credits (a Wisconsin Student Practice Rule requirement)
Class Meeting Time: Thursdays (5:10 – 6:50 p.m.)

The fieldwork component of the Public Defender Clinic is part of the Law School’s Supervised Fieldwork Program and is described as follows:

Supervised Fieldwork Program: Wisconsin State Public Defender Trial Division. This is the fieldwork component of the Defender Clinic. Students are teamed with Assistant State Public Defenders and assist them in providing the full range of defense services to the poor who are accused of crime. Their duties include interviewing clients and witnesses, researching legal issues, making court appearances, participating in plea negotiations, preparing cases for trial, and assisting at trials and sentencing proceedings. They may also assist in the representation of clients who are facing revocation of probation or other forms of community supervision in an administrative law setting.

Credits: 4

Graded: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory
Prerequisites: Criminal Law, Criminal Process and Evidence
Prerequisite or Fall Term Co-requisite: Law Governing Lawyers
Limited to student who have completed 45 credits

The Public Defender Clinic is a two-semester experience that begins in the fall semester and concludes at the end of the spring term. A participating student must complete the entirety of the two-semester program in order to earn any academic credit, i.e., no partial credit is awarded for participation in some but not all of the program. A grand total of 6 credits will be awarded (2 for the workshop and 4 for the supervised fieldwork) upon conclusion of the two-semester program (although on final transcripts the credits for each component will be evenly divided between the two semesters).
JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAMS

Judicial Internship programs are grouped into two categories: Appellate Courts and Trial Courts. Each of these popular programs offers students an opportunity to participate in the work of the judiciary through assignment to a specific appellate or trial court chambers. For those who might consider clerking after graduation, this is an opportunity to get a glimpse at what clerking entails; this is especially true in the appellate court programs and in the federal trial court programs. For others, the chance to be a working member of a court staff and to observe first-hand the business of judging can be an invaluable educational experience that helps prepare them to function effectively in the courts as practicing lawyers.

There is a classroom component to the Judicial Internship programs. This class meets on Thursdays from 12:00 to 1:50 p.m. throughout most of the semester.

A student may participate in both the Appellate Courts program and the Trial Courts program, though not at the same time.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES
OF THE JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

While the experience of each judicial intern will vary depending upon the type of court in which the student works and the judge/justice to whom the student is assigned, the Judicial Internship Program is intended to afford each of its participants the following educational opportunities:

- Exposure to new substantive areas of the law (or exposure to familiar areas of substantive law but at a more sophisticated level)
- An understanding of the court system in which the student works and the procedures utilized to advance cases through that system
- An immersion in the law of procedure (civil, criminal or appellate)
- Refinement of legal research skills
- Enhancement of legal writing skills
- Exposure to the process of judicial decision-making and an understanding of those attributes of effective lawyering that materially advance the position of litigants before the court
JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP: APPELLATE COURTS
(2 credits)

The Judicial Internship - Appellate Courts is a one-semester program available to 2L and 3L students. It is offered each semester. Placements are available with the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit (Milwaukee Chambers of Judge Diane S. Sykes and at the Headquarters of the Court in Chicago), with all seven justices of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, and with the judges of District I (Milwaukee) and District II (Waukesha) of the Wisconsin Court of Appeals.

Credits: 2
Duration of Internship: One Semester
Time Commitment: 120 Hours (including time spent in the classroom component)
Grade: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory
Prerequisites: Civil Procedure; Legal Analysis, Writing & Research 1 & 2
Limited to students who have completed 27 credits.

Special Notes on Appellate Court Placements

(a) Wisconsin Supreme Court. Almost all of the work for a Wisconsin Supreme Court internship may be done in Milwaukee, though attendance at periodic meetings at the Court’s chambers in Madison is required. The frequency of these meetings varies by chambers with most chambers requiring a presence at the court at least once each week. Most students also try to observe oral arguments at the court for the cases on which they have worked. This internship is principally a legal analysis and legal writing experience in which students prepare bench memos for upcoming oral arguments and perform such other research or opinion drafting as assigned. Supervisory feedback is received primarily from the assigned justice’s law clerk. Note: Because so much of the student work in this program may be done locally, several part-time students have successfully participated in the Supreme Court Judicial Internship.

(b) Wisconsin Court of Appeals. This internship is principally a legal analysis and writing experience, as students generally work on draft opinions for the judges, although other research assignments and technical work on the court’s opinions may be given. As in the supreme court internships, the intern’s principal contact is the judge’s law clerk. Placements are available with District I and District II of the court. Because so much of this internship involves working on court opinions, most of the intern’s work will be done at the court’s chambers. (District I is located in the Plaza East office tower at 330 East Kilbourn Avenue in downtown Milwaukee; District II is located just off interstate highway I-94 in Waukesha County.)
(c) Hon. Diane S. Sykes, United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. U.S. Circuit Judge (and former Wisconsin Supreme Court Justice) Diane S. Sykes maintains her chambers in the U.S. Courthouse at 517 East Wisconsin Avenue in Milwaukee. Generally, interns prepare bench memoranda which the judge uses to prepare for oral arguments and they perform such other research assignments and technical work on opinions as may be requested of them. They also typically observe at least one session of oral arguments at the Seventh Circuit’s headquarters in Chicago. This internship is principally a legal analysis and legal writing experience. Most of the work for this internship may be done other than at Chambers; this placement is thus attractive for both full-time and part-time students. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

(d) Judicial Internship at the Headquarters of the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. In this placement students intern at the headquarters of the Seventh Circuit in downtown Chicago. They are supervised by the attorney who serves as Counsel to the Circuit Executive. Duties include screening new appeals for federal appellate and subject matter jurisdiction and researching jurisdictional issues, attending oral arguments at the Court, observing the mediation program in the Court’s Settlement Unit, and assisting with such other research projects as may be assigned by the supervising attorney or one of the Court’s staff attorneys. In order to maximize the benefits of this internship, the student must be able to spend one day per week at the Court’s headquarters in downtown Chicago (a short walking distance from the Amtrak Station). Any day of the week works well for this purpose as the Court is fully operational Monday through Friday and hears oral arguments on each day of the week. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

JUDICIAL INTERNSHIP: TRIAL COURTS
(2 credits)

In the Judicial Internship: Trial Courts program, students intern with a United States District Judge, a United States Magistrate Judge, a United States Bankruptcy Judge, or a judge in one of the many divisions of the Milwaukee County Circuit Court.

Credits: 2
Duration of Internship: One Semester
Time Commitment: 120 Hours (including time spent in the classroom component)
Grade: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory
Limited to students who have completed 27 credits.
Prerequisites for specific trial court placements are noted on the application form.
Special Notes on Trial Court Placements

Wisconsin Circuit Courts: Placements in state trial courts are ordinarily with judges of the Milwaukee County Circuit Court. With the exception of Children’s Division judges whose courts and chambers are located in Wauwatosa, all of the state court judges are located within two blocks of the Law School. Internship placements in the state circuit court may be available in the following specialized divisions of the circuit court: Civil (including both large claims and small claims), Felony, Misdemeanor, Children’s (where juvenile delinquency cases and cases involving abused/neglected children are heard), and Family (primarily divorce cases).

These internships are not principally legal analysis and legal writing experiences, but rather are opportunities to observe lawyer and judicial behavior in trial courtrooms and chambers. Often there is an opportunity to discuss the observations with the presiding judge. Some research and writing may be involved, depending upon the judge and the division in which the student works. In the Circuit Court program placements are made according to the preferences expressed on the application form, e.g., Felony Division, Civil Division, Family Division, Juvenile Division, etc.

These internships are most valuable if a student is available to be at the court in 2-3 hour blocks of time (other than during the noon hour or on Friday afternoons). This allows for meaningful opportunities to observe court proceedings and those that occur in chambers. Further, for those interested in clerking with the Civil Division, it should be noted that most Civil Division judges hear motions on Monday mornings. It is particularly useful for students to be available at that time because much of their work involves motions and this is the time when those motions are litigated.

Note: Although most placements in the circuit court program are with judges in Milwaukee County, a student could also arrange for such a trial court internship with a judge in another jurisdiction subject to the approval of Professor Hammer. If you are interested in an out-of-town circuit court placement, please see Prof. Hammer.

United States District Courts. These federal trial court internships involve placements with the U. S. District Judges who preside in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin. These judges’ calendars involve civil, criminal and administrative law cases. With the exception of U.S. District Judge William C. Griesbach (who sits in Green Bay), the participating judges have chambers located in the Federal Courthouse at 517 East Wisconsin Avenue in downtown Milwaukee.

Internships with the federal trial courts are principally research and writing experiences. Students work on opinions and orders and they perform such other research as may be requested by the judge and the judge’s clerks. They also observe proceedings in the courtroom when the judge is on the bench and proceedings in chambers when invited to do so. This internship is an excellent introduction to the workings of the federal district courts. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

Special note regarding the placement with Judge Griesbach: Though judicial interns in this program will need to meet periodically with the judge and his staff in Green Bay, the research and writing assignments that are a major component of this internship can be done locally. This arrangement with Judge Griesbach may make this placement particularly attractive to part-time students with the flexibility to travel to Green Bay (typically once per week). Judge Griesbach is generous in spending time with the students when they are in Green Bay and he is very accommodating with respect to the travel aspects of this internship.

United States Magistrate Judges. Placements will also be available with the United States Magistrate Judges who sit in the Eastern District of Wisconsin. In the federal system magistrate judges hear civil cases (including jury trials) with the consent of the parties, conduct preliminary proceedings in criminal cases (initial appearances, bail hearings, pretrial motion hearings, etc.), handle certain administrative agency appeals, and provide such other assistance to the district judges as authorized by law (including mediation services). Interns typically work with both the judge and the judge’s law clerk(s). The work includes both legal analysis and writing as well as courtroom and chambers observations. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.

United States Bankruptcy Court. In this program students attend courtroom hearings, chambers proceedings, and Sec. 341 hearings before the U.S. Trustee. They also perform such research and writing on issues in bankruptcy law as may assigned by the court. To maximize the benefits of this internship, students must be available on Thursday mornings when they will have the opportunity to work with the volunteer lawyers who assist those who are filing for bankruptcy without counsel. This internship is particularly useful for those with an interest in creditor-debtor law. There is typically a considerable opportunity to discuss the cases with the judge. Note: A student participating in this federal judicial internship may not simultaneously be employed in a law-related position.
SUPERVISED FIELDWORK PROGRAMS
(2 credits unless noted otherwise)

The Supervised Fieldwork Program was established by action of the Law School faculty in January, 1986. It is designed to offer students an opportunity for a clinical experience in a wide variety of governmental agencies and public interest organizations that provide legal services to those who are poor, marginalized, or otherwise underrepresented in society. Students work under guidance from agency lawyers and under the general supervision of faculty members. Given the breadth and diversity of Supervised Fieldwork offerings, opportunities are available for the development of lawyering skills in virtually every area of law practice.

OF THE SUPERVISED FIELDWORK PROGRAM

While the experience of each Supervised Fieldwork Program intern will vary depending upon the nature of his/her placement, it is nonetheless possible to articulate the following statement of educational objectives that are generally applicable in every internship setting. It is anticipated that each intern will have the opportunity for:

- Exposure to new substantive areas of the law (or exposure to familiar areas of substantive law but at a more sophisticated level)
- An immersion in the law of procedure and in the legal and organizational processes employed by the agency to accomplish its work
- The acquisition of specific lawyering skills that are relevant to the particular internship and which are articulated at the outset and measured throughout the internship
- The development of the habit of reflection and continuous self-assessment of the intern’s professional growth
- The acquisition of time management and planning skills
- The assessment of one’s ability to work effectively in the legal profession and the development of one’s confidence in his/her ability to do so
- The identification of ethical issues that arise in the internship setting and the methods for resolving those issues
General Requirements of the Supervised Fieldwork Program

Credits: 2 (unless noted otherwise)
Duration of Internship: One Semester
Time Commitment: 120 hours for 2-credit internships; 180 hours for 3-credit internships; 240 hours for 4-credit internships
Grade: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory
Limited to students who have completed 27 credits.
Other prerequisites/co-requisites are catalogued below in the “Special Notes” section.

NOTE: There is no weekly classroom component in the Supervised Fieldwork Program. Instead students must be available for a few prescheduled group meetings which typically occur during the noon hour at the Law School. There are also a few individual meetings with the faculty supervisor assigned to each program.

Special Notes on Supervised Fieldwork Program Placements

AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin. The AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin (ARCW) is the largest AIDS resource provider in the state of Wisconsin. The ARCW has nine different locations across the state of Wisconsin, but the largest office is located in downtown Milwaukee. In addition to legal services, ARCW provides numerous other services including medical care, dental care, mental health care, social services, housing services, and AIDS prevention services.

In this internship students assist staff lawyers in a variety of legal matters, including advance directives, discrimination in employment, housing and public accommodations, social security disability, insurance, guardianships, evictions and bankruptcies. Activities include interviewing clients, conducting legal research, drafting documents, assisting attorneys at hearings, etc. Prerequisite: Civil Procedure.

Brown County District Attorney’s Office. This is a Student Practice Rule clinical placement for those interested in acquiring courtroom experience in the context of a state prosecutor’s office. The office is located is Green Bay, Wisconsin. Students will assist the Assistant District Attorneys in the various phases of a criminal case from charging to sentencing. Prerequisites: Criminal Process and Evidence. Limited to students who have completed 45 credits (a Student Practice Rule requirement).

Catholic Charities Legal Services for Immigrants. Catholic Charities is a nonprofit organization operating under the auspices of the Archdiocese of Milwaukee. The agency provides family-based immigration services, helps the Archdiocese obtain religious visas for foreign priests and nuns, represents clients in removal proceedings, assists clients apply for asylum, helps victims of domestic violence obtain permanent residence under the Violence Against Women Act, and helps victims of crime to apply for “U” visas.
Under the supervision of agency lawyers the interns interview clients, assist in the preparation of relevant documents, research legal issues pertinent to immigration law, and perform such other case-related tasks as may be necessary. Some attend or assist at immigration hearings in Chicago. Though not required, knowledge of Spanish can be useful in this internship. Prerequisite: Immigration Law preferred but not required for the 2013 fall internship. Catholic Charities staff will provide instruction on the aspects of immigration law relevant to this internship.

Scheduling Note for Catholic Charities: The agency provides free consults throughout the day on Wednesday; many of these consults lead to intakes of new cases for the organization. Wednesdays are thus good days to be present in the office.

Centro Legal. Centro Legal is a nonprofit organization located on the south side of Milwaukee that provides low-cost legal services to low-income residents. At the present time the focus of the agency’s work is upon family law litigation and the defense of misdemeanor criminal cases. For the 2013 fall term a placement is available in the misdemeanor unit. Students will be certified under the Wisconsin Student Practice Rule so that they may make on-the-record appearances in court on behalf of their clients. The great majority of Centro Legal’s clients are English speaking; knowledge of Spanish is not required. Prerequisite: Criminal Process. Limited to students who have completed 45 credits (a Student Practice Rule requirement).

Disability Rights Wisconsin. Disability Rights Wisconsin is a private nonprofit organization that was founded in 1977. Designated by the Governor to ensure the rights of all state citizens with disabilities through individual advocacy and system change, DRW is part of a national system of federally mandated independent disability agencies. Disability Rights Wisconsin serves people of all ages, including people with developmental disabilities, people with mental illness, people with physical or sensory

The transcript will only be used internally by the Director of Clinical Education to verify academic credentials for an internship placement, e.g., completion of prerequisite courses and eligibility for Student Practice Rule licensing. It will not be shared with the court or agency with which you are applying for placement. An unofficial CheckMarq transcript suffices for this purpose. Transfer students should include a transcript from the institution from which they transferred to Marquette.

LIABILITY RELEASE AND WAIVER

This legally binding Release is made by ________________________________________ (“Participant”) to Marquette University (“Marquette”). The term “Undersigned” refers to Participant.

The Undersigned fully recognizes that there are dangers and risks to which Participant may be exposed by participating in the Marquette University Law School Program of Clinics, Judicial Internships and Supervised Fieldwork (“Program”). Program activities (“Activities”) include, but are not limited to, observation; legal research and writing; attending hearings, motions, trials, depositions, and other proceedings; interacting with clients, potential clients, and others; and participating in other related activities connected to the Program. Activities take place at courthouses, municipal buildings, governmental agency offices, offices of organizations that host internships, etc. Participants are responsible for arranging for their own round-trip transportation to and from Activities associated with the Program.

The Undersigned has signed this “Release and Waiver” in full recognition and appreciation of the dangers, hazards, and risks of said Activities, which dangers include, but are not limited to, physical injuries (minimal, serious, or catastrophic) and/or property loss or damage. The Undersigned understands that Marquette does not require Participant to participate in this Program, but Participant desires to do so, despite the possible dangers and risks and despite this Release. The Undersigned submits that Participant is physically able to participate in this Program. Participant grants Marquette permission to administer first aid to and/or to obtain emergency medical treatment for Participant in the event of a medical emergency. The Undersigned agrees to pay for any/all costs of such medical treatment.

The Undersigned therefore agrees to assume and take on all the risks and responsibilities in any way associated with this Program and its Activities. In consideration of, and in return for, services, facilities, and other assistance provided to Participant by Marquette in this Program and its Activities, the Undersigned releases Marquette (and its governing board, employees, and agents) from any and all liability, claims and actions that may arise from injury or harm to Participant, up to and including death, or from damage to or loss of property in connection with this Program and its Activities. The Undersigned understands that this Release covers liability, claims, and actions caused entirely or in part by any acts or failures to act of Marquette (or its governing board, employees, or agents), including but not limited to negligence, mistake, or failure to supervise by Marquette.

The Undersigned recognizes that this Release means that Participant is giving up, among other things, rights to sue Marquette, its governing board, employees, and agents for injuries, damages or losses incurred. The Undersigned also understands that this Release binds Participant and his/her heirs, executers, administrators, and assigns. The Undersigned has read this entire Release, fully understands it, and agrees to be legally bound by it.
