Cheryl A. Johnson

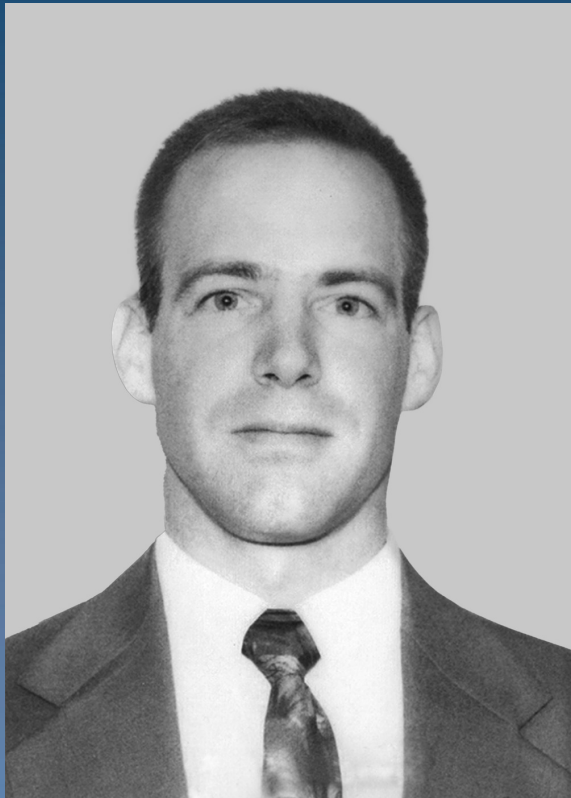

1954-2006

Johnson, Cheryl A. Age 52 years. Oct. 4, 2006. Survived by two daughters, Bailey and Logan Johnson; her partner, Cecilia Chapple; and a host of other loving relatives and friends.

Gregory J. Raho

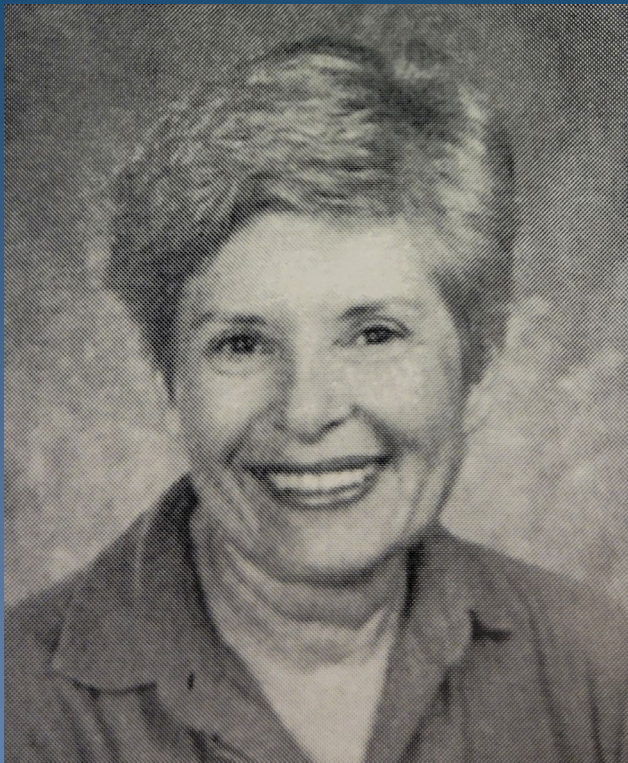

1968-2006

Raho, 38, an FBI supervisory special agent, was killed Dec. 6 during a live-fire training exercise at Fort A.P. Hill, an Army base near Bowling Green, Va., about 60 miles south of Washington, D.C. A memorial was held Friday night in Brookfield for Raho, who was accidentally shot and killed during the training exercise. Raho began a life of public service as a firefighter and paramedic with the Town of Brookfield Volunteer Fire Department in the late 1980s, when he and Asselin met. Raho simultaneously earned his bachelor's degree in criminology and sociology at Marquette University, graduating cum laude with honors in 1989. He then went on to Marquette Law School, earning his law degree in 1993. That was followed by a one-year stint with the Shorewood Police Department and then duty as a police officer in Madison before joining the FBI in 1997. About three years ago, Raho was transferred to Virginia and the FBI's Hostage Rescue Team. The HRT, as it is sometimes called, is the agency's "primary unit responsible for counterterrorist operations," according to the FBI Web site. FBI Director Robert S. Mueller III posthumously awarded Raho the FBI Medal of Valor for "brave and heroic acts occurring in the line of duty while deployed to Iraq as a member of the Hostage Rescue Team," according to an FBI statement. Raho, Gregory J. Joined his "Baby Brother" John in Heaven on December 6, 2006 at the age of 38 years. Fond and devoted son of Natalie and Richard Raho. Treasured brother of Teri (Mike) Jansen. Adoring grandson of Veronica Tondryk. Fun loving uncle of Alyssa and Vicki. Fiance and true love of Special Agent Paula Paulk. Also remembered by other relatives, countless friends and his extended FBI family.
