Affiliate: Toronto Blue Jays (2013)
Principal Owner: Robert E. Rich, Jr.
Team Website
TWITTER: @BuffaloBisons

Stadium: Coca-Cola Field
Date Built: 1988
Facility Cost ($/Mil): $42

Facility Financing: The State of New York contributed $22 million and various other public entities paid for the remainder.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2016, the Buffalo Bisons added more protective netting. The safety netting now extends to the outfield sides of both dugouts. The Buffalo Bisons also added a new suite on the club level, a new concession stand with local cuisine, new ice cream machines, and new merchandise to the team store.

Team Value: $20 million (Revenue: $10 million; Operating Income: $2.8 million)

NAMING RIGHTS: The stadium was originally named Pilot Field. In 1995, the stadium was renamed North AmeriCare Park. In 1998, for $2.5 million, Dunn Tire Corp. took over the remaining eight years of the City of Buffalo's naming rights agreement. Thus, the stadium was renamed Dunn Tire Park. Then, in 2008, the Bisons agreed to a ten-year naming rights deal with the Coca-Cola Company, renaming the stadium to Coca-Cola Field.

Team: Charlotte Knights

Affiliate: Chicago White Sox (1999)

Date Built: 2014

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $54

Facility Financing: The City of Charlotte funded $7.25 million through hotel taxes; Center City Partners funded $725,000; Mecklenburg County funded $8 million; and private investors funded the rest.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2016, BB&T Park added more safety netting. The safety netting now extends to the outfield sides of each of the dugouts.

NAMING RIGHTS: In April 2012, the Knights announced that they had found a naming rights sponsor for the new stadium. BB&T Corporations signed an eighteen-year deal for an undisclosed amount for the naming rights to the stadium, beginning in 2014.

Team: Columbus Clippers

Affiliate: Cleveland Indians (2009)

Principal Owner: Franklin County, Ohio

Team Website

TWITTER: @CLBClippers

Stadium: Huntington Park

Date Built: 2009

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $70

Facility Financing: The facility was financed by over $40 million in private funds, a $7 million state grant, the proceeds of selling the previous stadium, and revenue from ticket and concession sales.

Facility Website

UPDATE: New for 2016, the Clippers added more safety netting to the already-existing protective netting. The safety netting now covers both of the dugouts and extends to the outfield side of both dugouts.

Team Value: $24 million (Revenue: $12 million; Operating Income: $4.8 million)

NAMING RIGHTS: In February 2006, Huntington National Bank entered into a twenty-three-year, $12 million naming rights agreement for the Clippers' new ballpark to be called Huntington

Park. Huntington Bancshares INC., parent company of Huntington National Bank, agreed to a six-year, $2.5 million extension of the naming rights agreement, which will now end in 2022.

Team: Durham Bulls

Affiliate: Tampa Bay Rays (1998)

Principal Owner: Jim Goodmon (Capitol Broadcasting Co.)

Team Website

TWITTER: @DurhamBulls

Stadium: Durham Bulls Athletic Park

Date Built: 1995

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $16.1

Facility Financing: The facility was financed through the City of Durham issuing Certificates of Participation in the amount of $10.97 million, taking out a $2.2 million loan from its water and sewer fund, deciding to implement a twenty-five-cent surcharge on tickets, and receiving money from sky box rentals.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2016, Duke renewed their contract with the Durham Bulls. So, Duke will play all of their home games at Durham Bulls Athletic Park for the next seven years. With the contract renewal, there is now a new, permanent Duke locker room and clubhouse in the facility.

Team Value: $17 million (Revenue: $7 million; Operating Income: $0.6 million)

NAMING RIGHTS: Durham Bulls Athletic Park currently has no naming rights sponsor.

Team: Gwinnett Braves

Affiliate: Atlanta Braves (1966)

Principal Owner: Atlanta Braves (Liberty Media)

Team Website

TWITTER: @GwinnettBraves

Stadium: Coolray Field

Date Built: 2009

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $64

Facility Financing: Gwinnett County incurred about $77.5 million of debt that will be paid back over thirty years. Additionally, rental-car tax, as well as taxpayer money, has been earmarked to pay off the stadium's debt.

Facility Website

NAMING RIGHTS: In 2010, the Gwinnett Braves signed a sixteen-year, $4.5 million naming rights agreement with Atlanta-based Coolray Heating & Cooling. The deal will expire in 2026.

Team Website

TWITTER: @NorfolkTides

Stadium: Harbor Park

Date Built: 1993

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $16

Facility Financing: Harbor Park was financed through rent from the Tides and revenue from non-sports events held at the park.

Facility Website

UPDATE: As of 2016, the Norfolk Tides have a new logo, new team colors, and a new mascot.

NAMING RIGHTS: Harbor Park currently has no naming rights sponsor. Since 2016, Norfolk Tides have been looking for a consultant to help find a sponsor to buy the naming rights to Harbor Park.

Team: Pawtucket Red Sox

Affiliate: Boston Red Sox (1973)

Principal Owner: Larry Lucchino

Team Website

TWITTER: @PawSox

Stadium: McCoy Stadium

Date Built: 1942

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $1.5

Facility Financing: $500,000 for the original stadium came from the federal government's WPA program. The rest of the funding came from other sources.

Facility Website

UPDATE: New for 2016, the Pawtucket Red Sox are looking for firms to bid on a massive renovation plan for McCoy Stadium. The City, State, and team owners announced that they are conducting a study, which will be split between them, with the intent of the study to consider what significant repairs and upgrades are necessary to provide a safe, accessible state-of-the-art public facility.

Also new for 2016, a new larger protective steel net that is more transparent was added behind home plate. Thirteen sections were also given a new coat of fresh paint and the Red Sox took out the bleachers in right field and expanded the patio and barbecue in that area.

Team Value: $19 million (Revenue: $8 million; Operating Income: $0.8 million)

NAMING RIGHTS: McCoy Stadium is named in honor of Thomas P. McCoy, former mayor of Pawtucket, Rhode Island. The stadium was dedicated on June 6, 1946, and re-dedicated on July 5, 1992.

Team Website

TWITTER: @RailRidersNews

Stadium: PNC Field

Date Built: 1989

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $22

Facility Financing: Lackawanna County secured bonds for half of the costs, while a state community grant fund, overseen by Pennsylvania's Department of Community Affairs, paid for the rest.

Facility Website

NAMING RIGHTS: On February 1, 2007, PNC Financial Services Group bought the naming rights to Lackawanna County Stadium through the 2009 season for nearly $1.1 million. PNC now has a yearly renewal option for up to an additional seven years.

Team: Syracuse Chiefs

Affiliate: Washington Nationals (2009)

Principal Owner: Community Baseball Club of Central New York, Inc.

Team Website

TWITTER: @SyracuseChiefs

Stadium: NBT Bank Stadium

Date Built: 1997

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $16

Facility Financing: N/A

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2016, the Syracuse Chiefs covered five sections of the stands and raised the cost of tickets by two dollars. The Chiefs did this because they wanted to create a more intimate atmosphere in the park. The total number of lost seats is 1,519.

NAMING RIGHTS: The stadium was originally named P&C Stadium after the regional brand of supermarkets that are run by Syracuse-based Penn Traffic Corporation. However, in September 2004, Penn Traffic was released from its naming rights contract due to its bankruptcy. In 2005, Alliance Bank signed a twenty-year, $2.8 million naming rights deal with the Syracuse Chiefs. The deal is set to expire after the 2025 season. In 2013, the stadium's name was changed to NBT Bank Stadium after the merger of Alliance Bank and NBT Bank.

Team: Toledo Mud Hens

Affiliate: Detroit Tigers (1987)

Stadium: Chickasaw Bricktown Ballpark

Date Built: 1998

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $34

Facility Financing: Funded by a temporary one-cent sales tax approved by city voters in December 1993 as part of the Metropolitan Area Projects Plan (MAPS).

Facility Website

UPDATE: New for 2016, the Oklahoma City Dodgers have extended the safety netting. Now most seats behind the dugouts are protected.

NAMING RIGHTS: The stadium was originally named Southwestern Bell Park when it opened, but after five weeks, that name was withdrawn after public criticism. The stadium was then rebranded as Southwestern Bell Bricktown Ballpark. The park was again renamed in 2002, when it became known as SBC Bricktown Ballpark. In 2006, AT&T paid an undisclosed sum for ten years to rename the park AT&T Bricktown Ballpark. The naming rights deal with AT&T ended after the team was sold to Mandalay in 2010 and the ballpark was renamed RedHawks Field at Bricktown. In April 2012, a naming rights agreement was entered into with Newcastle Casino, owned by the Chickasaw Nation, to change the stadium's name to Newcastle Field at Bricktown; however, the public was outraged when they found out the signage that was to be erected at the park had the word "Casino" in small, faint letters just under the word "Newcastle." As a result, the stadium's name was once again changed, this time to Chickasaw Bricktown Ballpark.

Stadium: Werner Park

Date Built: 2011

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $ 29.405

Facility Financing: Sarpy County issued bonds totaling $27,055,000 and the team contributed $2.35 million. The county's bond debt will be primarily paid off through rent collected from the Storm Chasers, sales taxes generated at the ballpark, a portion of sales at the ballpark, a hotel tax, and a fifty-cent ticket surcharge on selected seats.

Facility Website

UPDATE: New for 2016, the Storm Chasers are opening up several new concession stands, upgraded premium seating space, revamped the putting green, and installed new parking lot entrance designations that will now be in alphabetical order. The Storm Chasers also installed the Autograph Bridge. This bridge will help fans be able to have more items signed by players. The Storm Chasers also built the Sun Valley Party Patio, which will be open to fans to host group or company outings. This patio is able to accommodate 75-100 guests and will have furniture and a patio set.

Team Value: $16 million (Revenue: $8 million; Operating Income: $0.6 million)

NAMING RIGHTS: Werner Enterprises, a trucking and logistics firm and long-time sponsor of the team, agreed to a naming rights deal for $305,000 per year for five years, which began in 2010, with an option to extend the deal. In May 2014, Werner exercised their option to extend the deal until 2020.

Stadium: The Dell Diamond

Date Built: 2000

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $25

Facility Financing: The City of Round Rock contributed $8.4 million from revenue bonds backed by their hotel-motel tax and Ryan-Sanders Baseball funded the rest.

Facility Website

UPDATE: New for 2016, the Round Rock Express approved a contract with an engineering company to start designing a new road to help with traffic getting to the stadium. The plan is to put a railroad crossing directly across from the park and add four lanes south of the tracks to open the area for development. Work will also be done on the interstate U.S. 79 and possibly to the stadium's driveway. The whole process should take about eight months to complete, however, the start date has not been determined.

Team Value: $26 million (Revenue: $14 million; Operating Income: $5.2 million)

NAMING RIGHTS: In January 2000, Dell Computer Corporation signed a fifteen-year, $2.5 million deal for naming rights to the stadium. In 2012, Dell Computers renewed its naming rights deal for an additional ten years. The deal is set to expire after the 2023 season.

Facility Financing: Privately funded by the Thomas J. White Development Corporation and publicly financed from a 2% hotel tax.

Facility Website

UPDATE: Tradition Field needs about $2.8 million in repairs. The players' area and the fans' area need to be fixed. There are cracked seats, missing railings, air conditioning issues, etc. that need to be repaired. St. Lucie County has not made the repairs that Tradition Field needs because the County cannot afford the repairs. St. Lucie County says that the stadium is safe for the fans and players and also says that the stadium is in good condition and meets stadium requirements set by Major League Baseball. However, all of the damaged seating will be repaired before the start of spring training.

NAMING RIGHTS: From 1988-2004, the stadium was named after Thomas J. White, who helped bring the Mets to Port St. Lucie. In 2004, Core Communities, LLC purchased the naming rights to the stadium in a ten-year deal for at least $150,000 per year. The stadium was named after the company's Town of Tradition, a community five miles from the stadium. The agreement was terminated in early 2010 after Core Communities failed to make $95,000 in payments due to the County at the end of 2009. In 2010, Digital Domain Holdings Corporation purchased the stadium's naming rights. The agreement changed the stadium's name to Digital Domain Park and the agreement was for $75,000 in 2010; $90,000 in 2011; and $100,000 in 2012. The price would have further increased based on the Consumer Price Index; however, the agreement terminated when Digital Domain Holdings Corporation filed for bankruptcy in September 2012. The stadium was then called Mets Stadium in the interim. In 2013, the Mets reached a five-year deal with Tradition Land Company, LLC for naming rights to the stadium. Tradition Land Company paid $75,000 for the 2013 season, but the fee is variable.
