Team Website

TWITTER: @BuffaloBisons

Stadium: Coca-Cola Field

Date Built: 1988

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $42

Facility Financing: The state of New York contributed $22 million and various other public entities paid for the remainder.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2017, the Buffalo Bisons added walk-thru metal detectors to all spectator gates. In addition, they have also added a no re-entry policy that states once inside the ballpark no one will be permitted re-entry, this also includes “anyone who wishes the leave the ballpark and the grounds around it to smoke or use tobacco-related products”.

Also in the offseason of 2017, nearly 2,900 new, wider seats were installed in the lower section of Coca Cola Field.

In May 2017, the Bisons made Coca-Cola Field smoke and tobacco-free.

NAMING RIGHTS: The stadium was originally named Pilot Field. In 1995, the stadium was renamed North AmeriCare Park. In 1998, Dunn Tire Corp. took over the remaining eight years and $2.5 million on the naming rights contract with the City of Buffalo. Thus, the stadium was renamed Dunn Tire Park. Then in 2008, the Bisons agreed to a ten-year naming rights deal with the Coca-Cola Company.

Team: Charlotte Knights

Affiliate: Chicago White Sox (1999)

Team Website

TWITTER: @KnightsBaseball

Stadium: BB&T Ballpark

Date Built: 2014

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $54

Facility Financing: The City of Charlotte funded $7.25 million through hotel taxes, Center City Partners funded $725,000, Mecklenburg County funded $8 million, and private investors funded the rest.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2017, the Knights completed a combined $400,000 worth of improvements divided among an enhanced sound system, additions to the children's playground behind the center-field wall and new and expanded shaded areas in the left-field bleachers and along the right-field line.

NAMING RIGHTS: In April 2012, the Knights announced that they had found a naming-rights sponsor for the new stadium. BB&T Corporations signed an eighteen-year deal for an undisclosed amount for the naming rights to the stadium, beginning in 2014.

Team: Columbus Clippers

Affiliate: Cleveland Indians (2009)

Principal Owner: Franklin County, Ohio

Team Value: (as of July 2016) $41 million (Revenue: $13.5 million; Operating Income: $4.0 million)

Team Website

TWITTER: @CLBClippers

Stadium: Huntington Park

Date Built: 2009

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $70

Facility Financing: The facility was financed by over $40 million in private funds, a $7 million state grant, the proceeds of selling the previous stadium, and revenue from ticket and concession sales.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2017, the Clippers added new craft brews from different brewers nationwide and remade their playground area in the ballpark.

It was also announced in 2017 that the Clippers would host the 2018 AAA All-Star game and the 2018 AAA National Championship Game.

NAMING RIGHTS: In February 2006, Huntington National Bank entered into a twenty-three-year, $12 million naming rights agreement for the Clippers' new ballpark to be called Huntington Park. Huntington Bancshares INC., parent company of Huntington National Bank, agreed to a 6 year, $2.5 million extension of the naming rights lease, which will now end in 2022.

Team: Durham Bulls

Affiliate: Tampa Bay Rays (1998)

Principal Owner: Jim Goodmon (Capitol Broadcasting Co.)

Team Value: (as of July 2016) $39 million (Revenue: $14.5 million; Operating Income: $3.9 million)

Team Website

TWITTER: @DurhamBulls

Stadium: Durham Bulls Athletic Park

Date Built: 1995

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $16.1

Facility Financing: The facility was financed through the City of Durham issuing Certificates of Participation in the amount of $10.97 million, taking out a $2.2 million loan from its water and sewer fund, deciding to implement a twenty-five-cent surcharge on tickets, and receiving money from sky box rentals.

Facility Website

NAMING RIGHTS: There are currently no naming rights for the Durham Bulls Athletic Park.

Team: Gwinnett Braves

Affiliate: Atlanta Braves (1966)

Principal Owner: Atlanta Braves (Liberty Media)

Team Website

TWITTER: @GwinnettBraves

Stadium: Coolray Field

Date Built: 2009

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $64

Facility Financing: The Gwinnett County incurred about $77.5 million of debt that will be paid back over thirty years. Additionally, rental-car tax, as well as taxpayer money, has been earmarked to pay off stadium debt.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In May 2017, the Braves announced that they would be changing their name by the end of the season and that the fans would vote on the new name change. The team had a contest in June allowing fans to determine what the team name would be. Other aspects like the mascot will not change according to officials with the Gwinnett Braves.

NAMING RIGHTS: In 2010, the Gwinnett Braves signed a sixteen-year, $4.5 million naming-rights agreement with Atlanta-based Coolray Heating & Cooling. The deal will expire in 2026.

Team: Indianapolis Indians

Affiliate: Pittsburgh Pirates (2005)

Principal Owner: Indians, Inc.

Team Value: (as of July 2016) $37.5 million (Revenue: $12 million; Operating Income: $1.6 million)

Team Website

TWITTER: @Indyindians

Stadium: Victory Field

Date Built: 1996

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $18

Facility Financing: The City of Indianapolis' Capital Improvement Board financed half of the stadium costs and the Indians financed the other half through ticket sales and private fundraising.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2017, the Indians added a 35 by 50 foot HD video board in right field. Also along each baseline there are now two new ribbon boards lining the upper deck. Each display measures 135 feet long and will provide in-game scoring, game information and more. The ballpark sound system was also upgraded.

NAMING RIGHTS: The Indians have not sold the naming rights to Victory Field. Instead, the stadium is called Victory Field to commemorate the U.S. victory in World War II.

Team: Lehigh Valley IronPigs

Affiliate: Philadelphia Phillies (2007)

Principal Owner: Joseph Finley and Craig Stein

Team Value: (as of July 2016) $43 million (Revenue: $15 million; Operating Income: $4.1 million)

Team Website

TWITTER: @IronPigs

Stadium: Coca-Cola Park

Date Built: 2008

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $50.25

Facility Financing: The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania funded one-third of the cost, while Lehigh County funded the rest through the issuance of bonds and a hotel tax.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2017, the Iron Pigs unveiled a brand new HD video board at Coca-Cola Park. The Iron Pigs also added a new picnic area and a new food app.

Also in 2017, the Iron Pigs extended its protective netting to cover all field level sections between the dugouts. The new netting provides 33 percent more visibility than the old backstop, and it's still strong enough to protect fans from a line drive foul ball.

NAMING RIGHTS: In 2007, the Lehigh Valley IronPigs signed a ten-year naming rights agreement with Coca-Cola, with an additional five-year option. Financial details were not disclosed. In 2015, the Ironpigs extended the naming rights agreement with Coca Cola. The naming rights lease will now be extended into 2027. Additional terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Team: Louisville Bats

Affiliate: Cincinnati Reds (2000)

Principal Owner: Stuart and Jerry Katzoff

Team Value: $36 million (as of July 2016) (Revenue: $12.5 million; Operating Income: $2.1 million)

Team Website

TWITTER: @LouisvilleBats

Stadium: Louisville Slugger Field

Date Built: 2000

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $27.8 (initial), $39 (final)

Facility Financing: The field was financed through a partnership between the City of Louisville, the Bats, Hillerich & Bradsby, the Brown Foundation, Humana Inc., and the Humana Foundation.

Facility Website

NAMING RIGHTS: Hillerich & Bradsby, makers of the famous Louisville Slugger baseball bat, paid $2 million for lifetime naming rights to the Stadium.

UPDATE: In 2017, the Bats added a new scoreboard that measures 30 feet wide by 36 feet high and has a high-definition layout that offers better image clarity, brightness and wide-angle visibility. The Bats also added a new videoboard which has an LED screen and measures 45.5 feet wide and 29 feet high, offering similar upgrades in picture quality and clarity.

The team has also replaced the sound and lighting systems, installed new protective wall padding and new netting between the field and the fans to protect visitors from stray balls, and has replaced carpet inside the stadium and given parts of the complex a new paint job while also adding new paint and carpet in the players' clubhouse.

Team: Norfolk Tides

Affiliate: Baltimore Orioles (2007)

Principal Owner: Maryland Baseball Holding, LLC

Team Website

TWITTER: @NorfolkTides

Stadium: Harbor Park

Date Built: 1993

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $16

Facility Financing: Harbor Park was financed through rent from the Tides and revenue from non-sports events held at the park.

Facility Website

NAMING RIGHTS: There is currently no naming-rights agreement in place.

UPDATE: In March 2017, the city of Norfolk announced that a firm hired to sell the rights to Harbor Park has set the price for naming rights between $400,000-$500,000 per year.

Team: Pawtucket Red Sox

Affiliate: Boston Red Sox (1973)

Principal Owner: Larry Lucchino and partners

Team Value: $30 million (as of July 2016) (Revenue: $10 million; Operating Income: $0.8 million)

Team Website

TWITTER: @PawSox

Stadium: McCoy Stadium

Date Built: 1942

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $1.5

Facility Financing: $500,000 for the original stadium came from the federal government's WPA program. The rest of the funding came from other sources.

Facility Website

NAMING RIGHTS: McCoy Stadium is named in honor of Thomas P. McCoy, former mayor of Pawtucket, Rhode Island. The stadium was dedicated on June 6, 1946, and re-dedicated on July 5, 1992.

UPDATE: As of July 2017, there is still uncertainty if the Red Sox will stay in their current stadium or even stay in Rhode Island. The Red Sox and Larry Lucchino are basically free agents at this point after a deal fell through in early July to keep the Red Sox in Rhode Island. The Redsox have been looking at Providence, RI and Worcester, MA as possible future sites for the Red Sox.

On June 27th, Rhode Island leaders introduced a new revamped bill that the state senate will consider in the fall. Rhode Island governor Gina Raimondo has announced her support of the 83 million dollar proposal for a Red Sox stadium in Rhode Island. The new bill includes the following financials: State taxpayers would contribute $23 million to a new publicly-owned ballpark in downtown Pawtucket, to be paid back with tax revenue from the stadium and a surcharge on ticket sales. The city of Pawtucket, RI would contribute $15 million, and the Red Sox would pay $45 million, with $33 million of the team's portion paid through a 30-year lease agreement.

Team: Rochester Red Wings

Affiliate: Minnesota Twins (2003)

Principal Owner: Rochester Community Baseball, Inc.

Team Value: $27.5 million (as of July 2016) (Revenue: $8.5 million; Operating Income: $0.4 million)

Team Website

TWITTER: @RocRedWings

Stadium: Frontier Field

Date Built: 1996

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $35.3

Facility Financing: The State of New York provided a $16 million grant toward construction costs, while Monroe County covered much of the rest of the expense with county-backed bonds.

Facility Website

NAMING RIGHTS: In 1996, Frontier Telephone entered into a twenty-year, $3.5 million naming rights agreement. Frontier Communications extended its naming rights agreement with Monroe County. Frontier Communications will pay $2.75 million

Team: Scranton/Wilkes-Barre RailRiders

Affiliate: New York Yankees (2007)

Principal Owner: New York Yankees and SWB Yankees LLC

Team Value: $28 million (as of July 2016) (Revenue: $9.5 million; Operating Income: $0.2 million)

Team Website

TWITTER: @swbrailriders

Stadium: PNC Field

Date Built: 1989

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $22

Facility Financing: Lackawanna County secured bonds for half of the costs, while a state community grant fund, overseen by Pennsylvania's Department of Community Affairs, paid for the rest.

Facility Website

NAMING RIGHTS: On February 1, 2007, PNC Financial Services Group bought the naming rights to Lackawanna County Stadium through the 2009 season from the county for nearly $1.1 million. PNC now has a yearly renewal option for up to an additional seven years.

UPDATE: In July 2017 it was announced that following a settlement in a case concerning the sale of the Scranton/Wilkes-Barre RailRiders some remaining funds will be set aside for PNC Field upgrades.

Lackawanna County and Luzerne County had been engaged in a legal dispute over the $14.6 million received after the sale of then Scranton/Wilkes-Barre Yankees to SWB Yankees LLC. Lackawanna County had claimed that it should receive all of the proceeds because it had maintained PNC Field to the tune of $20 million, while Luzerne County countered that it should receive 50% of the sale price because it originally contributed half of the funds to acquire the franchise and construct the ballpark.

A settlement is reported to give Luzerne County 4 million instead of 7.3 million that the county was seeking. Some of the remaining funds that had been set aside for a settlement, to the tune of $3 million, will be reserved for improvements to PNC Field.

The plan is for half of that total ($1.5 million) to be paid into a capital improvement fund now, with the remaining $1.5 million gradually placed into the fund over a three-year period.

Team: Syracuse Chiefs

Affiliate: Washington Nationals (2009)

Principal Owner: Community Baseball Club of Central New York, Inc.

Team Website

TWITTER: @SyracuseChiefs

Stadium: NBT Bank Stadium

Date Built: 1997

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $16

Facility Financing: N/A

Facility Website

UPDATE: In August 2017, NRT Bank Stadium will host a pro wrestling event. It will be the first ever non-baseball event at the stadium.

NAMING RIGHTS: The stadium was originally named P&C Stadium after the regional brand of supermarkets that are run by Syracuse-based Penn Traffic Corporation. However, in September 2004, Penn Traffic was released from its naming-right contract due to its bankruptcy. In 2005, Alliance Bank signed a twenty-year, $2.8 million naming-rights deal with the Syracuse Chiefs. The deal is set to expire after the 2025 season. In 2013, the stadium's name was changed to NBT Bank Stadium after the merger of Alliance Bank into NBT Bank.

Team: Toledo Mud Hens

Affiliate: Detroit Tigers (1987)

Principal Owner: Toledo Mud Hens Baseball Club, Inc.

Team Value: $35.5 million (Revenue: $12.5 million; Operating Income: $2.7 million)

Team Website

TWITTER: @MudHens

Stadium: Fifth Third Field

Date Built: 2002

Facility Cost ($/Mil): $39.2

Facility Financing: The financing structure relied on a series of private revenues, including naming rights, advertising and sponsorship, and premium seating sales.

Facility Website

UPDATE: In 2016, Hensville officially opened on opening day. Hensville is an entertainment area right outside Fifth Third Field. There are restaurants, shops, bars and Hensville Park in the entertainment area. Fans also have the ability to watch home games from Hensville's rooftop.

NAMING RIGHTS: The Toledo Mud Hens have a fifteen-year, $5 million naming rights deal with Fifth Third Bank that will expire after the 2016 season. Fifth Third Bank has decided to extend their naming rights agreement with the Toledo Mud Hens. The new agreement is for 12 years and will last through 2028. The financial portion of the agreement was not revealed.

UPDATE: In 2017, the OKC Dodgers unveiled the 5,000-Square-Oklahoma Fidelity Bank Club. The former Diamond Lounge features an unobstructed view of the field, enhanced food and beverage options, a brand new bar and upgraded furnishings.

Other upgrades in 2017 include, the unveiling of the Champions Membership that allows groups of four guests to experience the intimacy of ballpark seats with the upscale amenities of a suite. Groups receive VIP treatment in a unique, semi-private space that includes a table to enjoy all-inclusive food and beverage, plus reserved seats in a prime location.

The OKC Dodgers also added 10 new banners to the exterior of Chickasaw Bricktown Ballpark along Reno Avenue. These banners include Dodgers logos, players, families and more to add additional elements of marketing along a side of the ballpark that receives a lot of foot and driving traffic.

Lastly, along the concourse inside Chickasaw Bricktown Ballpark 18 historical signs were added that feature teams, players and baseball moments specific to Oklahoma prior to 1998.

NAMING RIGHTS: The stadium was originally named Southwestern Bell Park when it opened, but after five weeks; that name was withdrawn after public criticism. The stadium was then rebranded as Southwestern Bell Bricktown Ballpark. The park was again renamed in 2002, when it became known as SBC Bricktown Ballpark. In 2006, AT&T paid an undisclosed sum for ten years to rename the park A&T Bricktown Ballpark. The naming rights deal with AT&T ended after the team was sold to Mandalay in 2010 and the ballpark was renamed RedHawks Field at Bricktown. In April 2012, a naming rights agreement was entered into with Newcastle Casino, owned by the Chickasaw Nation, to change the stadium's name to Newcastle Field at Bricktown; however, the public was outraged when they found out the signage that was to be erected at the park had the word "Casino" in small, faint letters to the right just under the word "Newcastle." As a result, the stadium's name was once again changed, this time to Chickasaw Bricktown Ballpark.

UPDATE: Before the start of the 2017 season, Tiger Town and Publix Field at Joker Marchant Stadium will have undergone a $40 million facelift with construction happening throughout 2016. The Tigers, the state of Florida, and the City of Lakeland and Polk County will jointly finance the 15-month project.

The Flying Tiger's training facilities will be converted into administrative offices. There will be a new clubhouse and weight room and the training facility will now have state of the art hydrotherapy pools. A new year round restaurant will be installed, new seats in left field, a walkway will be constructed around the entire complex, an air-conditioned stadium club will be added, and a covered party area will be installed.

NAMING RIGHTS: Joker Marchant Stadium is named in honor of the late Joker Marchant, who was Lakeland's former Parks and Recreation Director and instrumental in establishing the Tigertown Complex. In 2016, Publix Super Markets bought the naming rights to the field. Publix will pay $3 million over the next 15 years to have its name on the home of the spring training facility. The ballpark will now be called Publix Field at Joker Marchant Stadium.

UPDATE: In 2017, the Tampa Yankees made extensive additions to Steinbrenner Field. In a nutshell the Yankees added plenty of selfie spots in this ballpark, including a cap logo in the right-field corner and two numbers – 2 (Derek Jeter) and 15 (Thurman Munson) – in the outfield concourse and all new seating areas.

The Tampa Yankees also added a small alternative entrance to expand into what many fans will experience as the main entrance to the ballpark. They improved their concourse area to make it a 360-degree concourse. There are now a series of individual and group seating areas, including reserved seating at a drink rail from each corner to the batters eye. There are two-story structures in each corner. In right field, the old group seating area has been replaced by a large canopied bar and an abundance of four tops, leading down to rows of food rails and reserved chairs.

The Yankees also spruced up their grandstand entry tunnels as they now feature graphics focusing on Yankee history.

NAMING RIGHTS: The stadium was originally named Legends Field, but was renamed in 2008 to George M. Steinbrenner Field after the late New York Yankees owner and Tampa resident.
